Marshall Says Russians Must Believe They, Western Powers in U.N. Can Live Side by Side; Opposes Any Shakeup

Says United States, U.N. Face Fundamental Task of Dispelling Misconceptions

Recalls Basic Item

Original Theory Held Great Powers Would Cooperate

Washington, May 5, (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today Russian leaders must be convinced that the Soviet Union can "live side by side in peace" with the western powers in the United nations. He made that argument in opposing any drastic shakeup of the U.N. without Russian agreement. Such a step, Marshall said, probably would destroy the organization and mean setting up rival military alliances.

Marshall said it is a fundamental task both of the U.N. and of the United States "to dispell the misconceptions of the Soviet leaders" about western civilization and its relations with Russia.

He recalled that the U.N. was founded originally on the theory that the great powers would cooperate to preserve peace once it was created. That requirement for the success of the U.N. has not been realized, he said.

As a result, he continued, the United States government has sought to create the necessary conditions for peace in cooperation with the nations which are willing to help.

The first necessary step in this effort to create peace, Marshall said, "was to insure the freedom and independence" of U.N. members.

"The ability of democratic peoples to preserve their independence in the face of totalitarian threats upon their determination to do so," he said. "That determination in turn depends upon the development of a healthy economic and political life and a genuine sense of security."

Misconceptions Prevail

Marshall declared that as problems between the western nations and Russia developed, it became clear "that serious misconceptions prevail in the minds of the leaders of the Soviet Union concerning western civilization and the possibilities for developing stabilized working relations between the Soviet Union and the other members of the community of nations."

He added:

"It is a misconception to suppose that domination of the world by a single system is inevitable.

"It is a misconception to suppose that differing systems cannot live side by side in peace under the basic rules of international conduct prescribed by the Charter of the United Nations. These rules are obligatory upon all members.

"A fundamental task of the United Nations and of our Foreign Policy is to dispel the misconceptions of the Soviet leaders and to bring about a more realistic view of what is possible and what is impossible in the relationship between the Soviet Union and the world at large. In this way there can be restored to international society the equilibrium necessary to permit the United Nations to function as contemplated * * *."

The committee is holding hearings on the U.N. structure and this country's relation to it. Up for study and possible action are resolutions backed by some 30 representatives and senators proposing that the United States take the lead in trying to get the United Nations charter changed with or without Russian cooperation.

City Recreation Commission Requested of Common Council

Resolution Asks Group Be Empowered; May Be Taken From B.P.W.

A proposal to remove the recreation department of this city from the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works and to create a five-man Recreation Commission was introduced to the Common Council Tuesday night by Alderman James E. Martin (R. 12th) and seconded by Alderman John Buboltz (D. 4th). The proposal was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee and the Finance, Ways and Means Committee.

Martin offered his resolution in answer to a four-page letter from the Board of Public Works, signed by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk in his capacity as president of that board, which called attention to necessary improvements which must be made to the city streets and sewers and the desirability of raising the pay of city employes. The letter termed park and recreation facilities "secondary."

The letter was in answer to a resolution introduced in the April 6 session of the Common Council by Alderman Buboltz and Martin and requesting a survey be made to "give an estimate of the cost of having skating rinks and other winter sports facilities in all the parks."

Concurrence Announced

Mayor Newkirk in his letter said the commissioners of the Board of Pulic Works had considered the recommendation and unanimously concluded "that it would be most fitting that all the parks in the city be equipped with facilities for winter sports including skating rinks and perhaps ski lifts and runs as well as lighted places for sleighriding and tobogganing.

"The commissioners were also agreed that it would be fine to have constructed swimming pools in the upper, central and lower sections of the city, and that there be made available in the central part of the city a playing field for both summer and winter sports. It was further thought that Kingston should perhaps also have at least a nine-hole municipal golf course as most other cities of this size have.

"These things, gentlemen, would most certainly add to the enjoyment, physical well-being and entertainment of many of our citizens, and would be something that Kingston could be justly proud (of), but believe me, gentlemen, I am not in any way trying to be facetious nor do I want you to get the impression that I consider this recommendation of the Common Council trivial, but as you all know, the construction of these facilities costs money, and in exorbitant amounts in these times, and in weighing the need for these installations with the many, many absolutely necessary projects having to do with public health, sanitation, and transportation, etc., in the city of Kingston, it is our belief that these park and athletic facilities become secondary."

The letter continues with a detailed listing of the projects on streets, sewers, equipment and salaries, which are termed of immediate necessity.

"In view of the above," the letter concludes, "we the commissioners of the Board of Public

Council Approves Public Auction of Unused Properties

Lots and Buildings Are Part of City-Owned List to Go, if Allowed

The Common Council Tuesday night approved an ordinance authorizing the sale at public auction of certain unused city-owned properties. The ordinance, which must be approved by the mayor before becoming effective, provides the sale will be held at the city court room on May 26 at 2 p. m.

Included in the property listed for sale are 24 various sized lots in the Fourth Ward and a frame house, buildings and lot at 104-106 Hasbrouck avenue; an irregular shaped parcel in the Third Ward on the East Chester street bypass at Tammany street; a lot at 133-139 Abeel street, and a lot at 1 DeWitt street.

Exact locations of the properties are shown on maps on file at the city clerk's office. Terms of the sale require that 10 per cent of the purchase price be paid to the city clerk by the highest bidder immediately following the sale, and the balance within 10 days, at which time a deed will be delivered to the purchaser.

The first reading of a proposed local law to extend the one per cent tax on gross income of utilities in this city until June 30, 1949, was given at the Common Council meeting Tuesday night. The reading was made after the council unanimously adopted a report of the Laws and Rules Committee recommending the enactment of such a law.

The committee report pointed out that the one per cent tax on gross income of utilities has been in practice since 1937, but the last local law passed expires on June 30, 1948. The extension until 1949 was allowed by recent act of the state legislature.

The second reading of the proposed law will be made at the June meeting of the Common Council.

Barbers Ask Ordinance

A request was made of the Common Council to pass legislation limiting the hours during which barber shops in the city may remain open from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. daily, except that on Friday they remain open until 7 7 p. m.

The request was contained in a resolution passed unanimously by journeymen and master barbers at a joint meeting on April 14. The Common Council is authorized to make such a law by the General Business Laws of New York State and by the city charter.

The request asks that it be made unlawful for barber shops to be open on Sundays or on New Year's Day, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. Seven o'clock closing would be permitted on Fridays and on days preceding the above mentioned holidays. The matter was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

Protest by Plumbers

The Common Council received a protest from Plumbers Local 223, A.F.L., signed by Edgar H. Lawrence, secretary, against what was termed the practice of regular city employes to be engaged in plumbing work on loan to plumbing contractors.

The letter specifically charged that employes of the Kingston Water Department are being employed "by a private contractor installing sanitary facilities in the Ruzzo building on Grand street."

Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turck ordered this matter referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

A request from the Board of Public Works that a sum of $18,000 be made available for the construction of the Dunnemann avenue sewer was referred to the Finance, Ways and Means Committee.

The Council unanimously authorized an agreement with Mills & Ward, auditors, of New York city, for the auditing of the city's accounts for 1948, based on their proposal of $25 per day per man, provided the total does not exceed $2,000. The Finance, Ways and Means Committee, which reported favorably on the proposal, pointed out that this firm has completed the work in a satisfactory manner in past years.

On motion of Alderman Paul Zucca, the Council voted to ap-

Law Is Praised

Education Gain Cited

Albany, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—Education Commissioner Francis T. Spaulding says the Dewey administration's controversial minimum pay law for teachers is encouraging more young men and women to enter the profession.

The administration's Feinberg law, setting a single pay standard for both elementary and high school teachers, provides these minimum schedules: $2,000 to $4,100 in communities of less than 100,000 population; $2,200 to $4,510 in cities of 100,000 to 1,000,000, and $2,250 to $5,125 in New York city.

An additional $200 differential is allowed teachers with master's degrees.

Governor Dewey, signing the bill, said it provided the "highest statewide (salary) schedule in the nation."

M.J.M. Group Says Kingston Library Needs Expansion

Lions Hear Community Is Apathetic to Program; Miss Freeborn, Mrs. Lee Speak

Need for expansion and general improvement of the local library was stressed at the Lions Club meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel yesterday through a discussion by the Myron J. Michael School radio forum group.

Estimated cost of an addition to the library was set at $25,000 by Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, U. S. Navy retired, president of the library board, who answered criticism by the young group and emphasized a community apathy in the library program.

Yesterday's program included an explanation of the Bard College summer theatre and school program by Miss Alida S. Freeborn, assistant managing director, and a bid for support of the Kingston Community Concert Program by Mrs. Marjorie Lee, New York representative of the local organization.

The forum group's criticism of the library stressed lack of adequate lighting, the need for more room and a general improvement program.

Says No Reserve Available

Capt. Hickey reported that the board already has considered plans for improving the lighting in the library, but there were no reserve funds for immediate consideration of plans for an addition.

The library is supported largely, he said, under the Carnegie endowment system with the city contributing only $11,000 a year. He advised a wider community interest in the library and indicated that it had made no progress because the people of the city have not been interested and responsive enough thrpugh the years.

The forum group under supervision of Miss Mary Kelly, of the M.J.M. faculty, discussed "Things We Should Like to See Done in Kingston to Improve the City."

Aside from the proposal to better the library, they advocated establishment of an attractive "Youth Center" program, industrial expansion and more active interest by local residents in general community welfare.

One member when asked "What do you think of the industrial situation in Kingston?" replied significantly with another question: "What industrial situation?"

Several members stressed the need for concerted effort in the city to expand industrially and all of the members expressed views as to what should be done to institute a better youth center program.

Wider Interest Suggested

Reminded that the city recently backed youth center and general youth programs and that the response was not as impressive as expected, the members stressed that a program with a wider range of interest and with emphasis on leadership, might be more successful.

Miss Kelly and the group were introduced by Clifford L. Rall, principal of the M.J.M. school, who stressed that they had appeared in 27 consecutive radio programs and won prominent

Buono Death Foul Play, Is Coroner View

Chicago, May 5 (AP) — Coroner A. L. Brodie said last night that a report on the death of a Saugerties, N. Y., youth showed "definite evidence of foul play."

He said Dr. Karl Pfeiffer, University of Illinois toxicologist, reported that Thomas F. Buono, 21, died of drowning but that the body contained a sufficient amount of a sleeping drug to cause stupor. Buono's body was found in Calumet River near here, April 13.

Although Brodie said the death was still of an undetermined nature, he asked police to learn where Buono obtained the drug. He said Dr. Pfeiffer's report showed the body contained a quarter grain of a barbiturate.

Buono, a student at the University of Notre Dame, disappeared from his campus residence April 2.

Mayor Requests Freedom Train to Stop in Kingston

Mentions in Letter That This City Is One of Oldest in N. Y. State

An official invitation to have the New York State Freedom Train pay a visit to Kingston was extended by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk Tuesday in a letter to Gerald H. Salisbury, chairman of the Freedom Train Commission.

Mayor Newkirk's message follows:

As mayor of the City of Kingston, I would like to extend an invitation to the New York Freedom Train to visit Kingston. Considering the historical significance of Kingston, this city certainly should be a very prominent part in the plans of the Freedom Train. Here are some of the pertinent facts that should have a direct bearing.

Kingston (Rondout) is the third oldest settlement in New York state, preceded only by New York city and Albany; it was the birthplace of the constitutional government of the State of New York, since here the Constitution was adopted; it was New York state's first capital; it was the birthplace and burial place of New York state's first governor; contains the Senate House, the oldest public building in the United States in which are a wealth of materials associated with our colonial history; also, within Kingston and the surrounding towns can be found the largest collection of colonial stone buildings in America.

Thanking you for your consideration, I remain

Very truly yours,
OSCAR V. NEWKIRK,
Mayor.

To Hold Conference

Washington, May 5 (AP)—President Truman will hold his weekly news conference at 3 p. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow.

Truman Still Is Hopeful Of Averting Rail Strike

Collapse of Mediation Efforts Does Not Deter Feeling, Ross Says

Washington, May 5 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman still hopes for a settlement to avert the threatened railroad strike.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President holds to the hope despite the collapse of efforts to mediate the wage dispute.

Ross talked with reporters just before Frank Douglass, head of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, began a conference with presidential assistant John R. Steelman.

The conference was for Douglass to report on the collapse of negotiations at Chicago looking to an agreement between representatives of the railroad brothers and of the carriers.

The strike has been called for next Tuesday.

In reply to questions, Ross said he knows of no tangible evidence that an agreement can be worked out. He said that "there's still a possibility the proposed strike will be settled," and that "the President has not given up hope."

He added that until the last minute before a strike there is always a chance" for an agreement. He said Mr. Truman was clinging to that hope.

At the same time he said he did not look for any important developments today. He did not know whether representatives of the carriers and brotherhoods would be called to the White House.

Government attorneys say the President has power to seize the railroads. That would be a step of last resort.

David B. Robertson, head of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, said White House seizure "will not settle the wage dispute it will only irritate it."

Robertson made his comment to a reporter as Chairman Frank P. Douglass of the National (Railway) Mediation Board returned from Chicago to report to Mr. Truman that the board's peace efforts have been exhausted.

Douglass announced yesterday the failure of last-ditch mediation

Ellenville Adopts School Increase

Budget Is $12,583 Over 1947; Library Aid Is Approved

Much interest was shown in the annual school meeting of District No. 2, Ellenville, Tuesday night when the Board of Education presented a budget of $241,250, a raise of $12,583 over last year. On the vote 77 favored adoption of the new budget with five negative votes being cast and five blank votes.

The meeting also added an appropriation of $3,500 for the Ellenville Public Library.

Ben H. Terwilliger acted as chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Marian Hart, clerk of the board, acted as secretary.

With estimated public money receipts of $120,000, the levy on property to be raised by direct taxation will be $88,255. C. C. Stauffer quoted a statement that the public money would be $170,000 instead of $120,000. Joel Balotin, president of the Board of Education, said that if this should turn out to be the case that this state aid money would be used to reduce the tax rate next year.

President Balotin explained the budget items, a number of which were questioned by Mr. Stauffer and others present.

An item of $2,100 for salary of a member of the Board of Education was said to be in anticipation of a full time clerk, although such action had not been yet determined upon. Explanation of an item of $[illegible] for supervision and ad-

Lang, 25 Others Will Be Sentenced

Local Man Pleads Guilty to Misdemeanor Count in Lottery

[illegible], N. Y., May 5 (AP)—Sentence will be passed Friday on 26 men who pleaded guilty to charges in connection with the running of what state police termed a $25,000,000 a year lottery based on the U. S. Treasury [illegible].

The men described by police as "[illegible]" admitted guilt late yesterday on a 20-count indictment charging three misdemeanors and 16 felony charges of conducting a lottery.

Twenty others, also arraigned by the Delaware county grads April 2, also pleaded guilty before State Supreme Court Justice Wallace S. Reed to reduced charges, all misdemeanors.

The 22 admitted guilt on 17 charges of selling and distributing tickets, one of conspiracy and another of advertising.

Four had pleaded innocent to the various charges before District Attorney W. N. Nicoll recommended that all charges against them be reduced to misdemeanors. Six others were indicted last Friday by a Schenectady county [illegible].

Those who pleaded guilty to the felony and misdemeanor counts were:

Russell Baker of Niskayuna, Joseph Rapp and Stanley S. Forman of Schenectady and Anthony Ha[illegible] of Glen Cove, R. D. 1.

They were released in $5,000 bail each. They had been tagged by state police as ringleaders in the ring. Forman operated the Benjamin Franklin Press in Schenectady where state police said they seized "millions" of tickets.

Those free on $1,000 bail each pending sentencing on misdemeanor charges are:

Carnival Performer Dies

Providence, R. I., May 5 (AP) — A 29-year-old trapeze performer in a Cranston, R. I., carnival died early this morning from injuries suffered last night when his "thrill drop" misfired and he plunged 110 feet to the ground. Nicholas Cozzolino, of Chatham, N. Y., fell when his trapeze bar, suspended from the wrists of a fellow acrobat, slipped from one of the ropes holding it.

Taft Leads Stassen at Ohio Polls

Senator Takes 15 to 8 Delegate Edge Over Former Governor of Minnesota

Dewey Is Active

State's Chief Executive to Give Major Talk at Eugene

(By The Associated Press)

With returns still far from conclusive, Senator Robert A. Taft forged into the lead over Harold E. Stassen today in their contest for 23 of Ohio's 53 Republican presidential delegates.

Taft, Ohio favorite son candidate, grabbed a 15 to 8 delegate edge over the former Minnesota governor in the arena where both had entered candidates' slates. Taft already had taken 30 delegates without contest.

The incomplete tabulation of 700,000 votes cast in yesterday's primary indicated seven Taft delegates had been elected against four for Stassen among the 23 for which they were battling.

In the remaining 12 contests, Taft held the lead with seven delegates to five for Stassen.

Thus, on this basis, Taft stood a good chance to land 14 supporters in the Republican National Convention against nine for Stassen.

But both contenders for the Republican nomination appeared certain to fall short of victory claims. Backers of Taft, the favorite son, had predicted the Minnesota challenger would not win more than six delegates. Stassen had predicted he would gain at least 12.

The Ohio senator was outpacing the former Minnesota governor in

Taylor Case Appeal Starts Over Segregation Statutes

Birmingham, Ala., May 5 (AP)—The conviction of Sen. Glen Taylor (D.-Idaho) for disorderly conduct here last night was headed for higher courts today as a test of the state's racial segregation laws.

The vice presidential candidate of Henry Wallace's third party was condemned by Police Judge Oliver Hall as a publicity-seeker, then fined $50 and costs and given 180 days in jail.

Judge Hall, however, stayed the sentence and placed Taylor on six months' probation. The defense immediately filed notice of appeal.

When notified in Peoria, Ill., of Taylor's conviction, Wallace commented, "the sentencing of Glen Taylor makes certain the destruction of the Democratic party.

"No party," Wallace continued, "can claim to be liberal and still stand for Jim Crow. Glen was not violating any law, he was upholding the basic law of the land, the Constitution of the United States."

Wallace's statement followed the defense's line of argument. Taylor's attorneys contended that while the charge was disorderly conduct, the basic issue was whether segregation laws violated the right of free assembly.

Nesbitt Elmore, attorney for Taylor, argued that police in denying Taylor admittance to a church last Saturday through a door set aside for use by negroes had violated Taylor's constitutional rights.

A scuffle between Sen. Taylor and Policeman W. W. Casey resulted in the senator's arrest.

The prosecution, conducted by City Attorney T. E. Huey, contended that the case had no ramifi-

Green Arrows to Be Taken From Two Intersections

After months of dickering, the Common Council Tuesday night voted to remove the "green arrow" traffic signals from the intersections of Albany and Clinton avenues and Washington and Hurley avenues.

The recommendation of the Traffic Control committee that they be abolished was adopted by a strict party vote, seven Republican aldermen for and five Democratic members against. Democratic Alderman Thomas F. Coughlin, who was present at the beginning of the meeting, left before the vote was taken.

The Traffic Control committee majority members, Abram D. Relyea and Edwin H. Sammons, reported that the "green arrows" had failed to serve the purpose for which they were intended and created a dangerous condition for both motorists and pedestrians.

The resolution as adopted provides also that signs be erected at the locations, warning motorists to stop on a red signal.

Another recommendation of the traffic committee, that a "No Parking at Anytime" sign be placed on John street opposite the home of Albert Cook at 24 John street, was unanimously adopted by the council. It was pointed out that, because of the narrowness of the street, it had been impossible for Cook to use his driveway when cars were parked opposite it.

Several other resolutions on traffic matters were introduced Tuesday night and referred to committee for study:

To prohibit parking on both sides of Abeel street in front of the Cornell fire station. Offered by Alderman Coughlin, seconded by Alderman Joseph N. Bruck.

To erect signs on Brewster street at the intersection of Le-

More Trouble Reported

Detroit, May 5 (AP)—With 75,000 Chrysler Corp. production workers completing plans for a May 12 strike, the big auto firm ran into more trouble today. A steel shortage affected its assembly lines. It announced that about 10,000 workers in its Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler plants will be laid off four days, effective Friday. Some 2,500 Plymouth division workers were laid off Monday because of the steel situation. The Chrysler layoff came as 125,000 General Motors Corporation workers were getting back on their jobs after a one-week layoff caused by the steel shortage.

Says Support Essential

Bloomington, Ind., May 5 (AP)—Byron Price said today the United Nations will succeed to the extent people support it. Price, an assistant secretary-general of the United Nations, added the U.N. will fail if the people fail to back it because of inattention, or defeatism or for any other reason. The U. N. official spoke at Foundation Day exercises at Indiana University.

City Fire Loss Is 5th Lowest in N. Y.

Per capita fire loss in Kingston ranged over the past five years ranked fifth lowest among cities of New York state with a population of over 20,000, according to statistics reported in the April issue of the National Fire Protection Association Quarterly.

The average yearly loss per person during the fire year period in Kingston was $1.43, according to the report. Those cities with better records were Olean, $1; Niagara Falls, $1.29; Mount Vernon, $1.57, and White Plains, $1.40.

The highest per capita loss in the state during that period was in Freeport, a city of 20,400, where the loss per person per year averaged $4.47. North Tonawanda, population 20,254, reported an average of $4.16 per person.

In the entire nation during 1947, a total of 496 cities having more than 20,000 population reported a fire loss of $177,079,182, amounting to an average loss of $3.20 per person. The 1946 figure was $2.90.

New York city reported an average per capita loss per year over the past five years of $1.95; Poughkeepsie, $3.03, Newburgh, $3.05, and Albany, $2.44.

Use Mushroom Stems

The stems from fresh mushrooms may be utilized in various ways if only the caps are served to garnish a dish; chop them fine and saute them, then use as a sandwich filling, in a rice stuffing for baked green peppers or in a tomato sauce for spaghetti.

On Hevenor Staff

JOHN PHEATT

The Hevenor Advertising Agency of Albany has amplified its public relations facilities to meet the growing need for this specialized type of service among manufacturers and service organizations in the area, Horace L. Hevenor, president, announced today.

John Pheatt, with more than 15 years experience in newspaper, advertising and public relations work with such companies as Johns-Manville, Walker-Turner and Bendix Aviation Corporation has been added to the Hevenor staff to specialize in handling public relations assignments.

Immediately prior to joining the Hevenor Agency Mr. Pheatt was a member of the Committee on Public Relations for Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute as a representative of the Verne Burnett organization, New York city. Before coming to this area he was an executive of Carl Byoir and Associates, New York, where he did public relations work for Libby-Owens-Ford, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Tile Council of America, Kaiser-Frazer, Bendix Aviation Corporation, and several other nationally known companies.

This new development rounds out the agency's complete media, art, copy production services available to its many leading industrial and consumer product clients in eastern and northern New York. The agency, fully recognized by all advertising media, has been in operation in Albany continuously since 1919.

Shokan, May 4—Vera Sickler and Donald DuBois were recently elected trustees of the Ashokan M.E. Church for a term of three years, starting May 1, 1948. An installation of church officers took place Sunday, May 2, following conclusion of the regular weekly preaching services.

John Buck, Jr., Kingston War 2 veteran, was numbered among the business callers in the hub of the reservoir country Monday.

Mrs. Henry Gebbelein and grandson, Harold Carlson, attended the interesting farm party at Ward's Kingston store last Saturday.

Secretary Anne C. Dietzer of the Olive Chamber of Commerce has notified local storekeepers of the details for a proposed fishing contest to be sponsored by the chamber this summer. Full details of the plan will be advertised in The Freeman.

The Misses Ann and Betty Gruber of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of their friend, Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Ray Cudney of Ashokan is helping Edwin D. Secor with the spring planting program at the Secor farm in the Tonche neighborhood. Ed has plowed up the big hillside field back of his farmhouse this spring. John and James Rutherford of the same neighborhood have their oats sowed, and last week were picking stone off their corn ground preparatory to planting this old reliable grain crop.

Our Old Timer informs us that he never saw the leaves and blossoms pop out so quick as they did Friday and Saturday. "The chilly spell jest couldn't hold 'em back any longer," says O. Mrs. Raymond Osterhoudt of Brown's is reported as getting along well following an operation at the Benedictine Hospital last week.

That recent letter to the editor of The Freeman apropos of the big Ashokan Reservoir trout not being able to get up over the dividing weir into the west basin, was well taken here. One sportsman-reader allowed that he had never thought of that angle before. A fish-ladder might be okay.

It is a fact that there are only two or three sizeable feeder streams at the east basin while the upper one has plenty of them, including the great Esopus Kill which in turn has some fine tributaries, cold and clear, and just what a female of the species might be likely to head for at spawning time. They could thus get away from the big ol' carp, too.

Men of Ulster: Wesley Shultis, who for many years figured prominently in the business life of the towns of Woodstock and Saugerties, was born Sept. 18, 1824, a son of Henry P. and Rachel Shultis and a grandson of Philip Shultis, one of the early settlers in the Woodstock section. He was brought up on the family farm and at the age of 18 became a teacher in the village school. He continued teaching 13 years, a portion of that time in the capacity of tutor in Jonesville Academy. Mr. Shultis next engaged in the general store business with Christian Behr at Bearsville, remaining there about 20 years. In 1878 he removed to Saugerties and kept a store there. He was a director of the State of New York Bank in Kingston; a trustee of the Saugerties Savings Bank, and district and circuit-steward of the Woodstock M.E. Church of which his father had been one of the founders. Mr. Shultis was first married Oct. 9, 1849, to Naomi Saxe, and their children were named Clarence and Fred. He was subsequently married to Sarah Saxe, and to Eudora Abbey, daughter of David Abbey of Kingston.

Ancient Maple Tree

A 225-year-old maple tree which was cut down recently showed it had been tapped for maple syrup back in the times of the Indians—there were evidences og gashes made by tomahawks.

Rock Kayoes Fox

Tarentum, Pa. (AP)—It took 20 years of hunting for John Cupec to bag a fox. And then he killed it with a rock. Cupec was caught without a gun when his prize fox found, "Bull," tangled with a fox. The veteran hunter picked up a rock and scored a bullseye from 20 feet. The fox was one of the finest specimens taken in this district during the season.

Y.M.C.A. Pool Is Closed During Period of Repairs

The Y.M.C.A. swimming pool will be closed for approximately 10 days due to major repairs to the filtration system, it was announced today. During that period, the annual spring cleaning of the pool and repairs to the ceiling and lighting system will take place.

The Y.W.C.A. swimming classes for ladies regularly scheduled Wednesday night has been postponed as has the high school Red Cross life saving class. All of the boys' swimming classes also have been postponed until later.

Taft Leads

their only state-wide contest, for a single delegate-at-large. Taft's candidates were ahead in all nine at-large races, with Stassen's lone entry trailing.

While Ohio Democrats boosted President Truman's convention vote total with their tally of 50, results of the Alabama primary showed no slackening in the Dixie Democratic revolt against Mr. Truman and his Civil Rights Program.

An anti-Truman slate of candidates for the 11 presidential elector posts was piling up a large majority. These candidates were pledged to vote in the Electoral College next November against any Democrat supporting the civil rights proposals.

A runoff was likely in the Alabama race for eight Democratic convention delegates-at-large. A majority of the leaders in that contest are pledged to walk out of the Philadelphia sessions if the Democrats put a civil rights plank in the party platform.

Gov. James E. Folsom, himself a presidential hopeful, was trailing in the 24-man delegate race. A folsm-backed candidate in the Senate race was outdistanced by Senator John J. Sparkman.

Meanwhile Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was following the Oregon trail in his bid to win that state's 12 G.O.P. convention votes from Stassen in the May 12 primary.

Dewey scheduled a major foreign policy talk tonight at Eugene. The Minnesotan is due to make a return visit May 17 for a three-day campaign wind-up.

Ohio voters also picked candidates for the governorship. Gov. Thomas J. Herbert won the Republican nomination in his bid for a second term. Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche easily beat out Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, for the Democratic nomination. Lausche was opposed by most party leaders.

Florida voters, however, may have to stage another election to determine the Democratic nominee for governor. Dan McCarty, Fort Pierce citrus grower, and Fuller Warren, Jacksonville attorney, headed a nine-man field.

In Indiana, 10 congressmen piled up huge majorities in their bid for renomination, with House Majority Leader Charles Halleck in the lead.

The Indiana election also brought victory to Philip Willkie in his first political venture. The 28-year-old son of the late Wendell Willkie won a Republican nomination for the state house of representatives.

Changes Are Predicted

Athens, May 5 (AP)—Informed sources predicted today that the Greek cabinet will be reshuffled when parliament meets May 10, and perhaps before. Some informants said the present Liberal-Populist coalition government may be forced to resign. There has been increasing criticism of the government by members of parliament who contend it is not meeting present problems effectively.

Apple Auction to Feature Y.M.C.A. Closing Thursday

Y.M.C.A. workers at their third report meeting on Tuesday evening reported a total of $15,065.14. Of this amount $12,500 was secured by the Initial Gifts Committee and $2,565.14 by the 11 teams.

Thursday at 6:30 the closing campaign dinner will be held in the "Y" auditorium. All workers are urged to continue their coverage of assigned streets.

Chairman McEntee states that the goal was in sight and he felt that if the volunteer workers would continue they could make it.

An apple auction will be the closing feature of the dinner Thursday. Ed Minasian, who always has been a worker in the campaign, has presented the committee with several bushels of apples. These apples will be auctioned and the proceeds added to the drive fund.

fications; it was simply a matter of whether Taylor was disorderly in seeking to force passage through the door.

Taylor sought to enter the church to address a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth Conference.

Judge Hall told Taylor, "it is my belief that this is a publicity stunt and had it been left to me, I never would have tried the case at all."

Taylor was brought to trial only after Judge Hall disposed of 11 other routine cases.

The defense offered no witnesses and no objections and throughout the hearing, Taylor was hard put to stifle yawns. The 300-seat courtroom in which the trial was held was equally divided between white and negro spectators.

To petition the Public Service Commission for the erection of crossing gates or other protection at the South Prospect street crossing of the Wallkill Valley railroad tracks. Offered by James J. Carroll, referred to Railroad and Bus Committee.

To repair the fence on East Union street. Offered by Alderman Peter Simpson, referred to the Board of Public Works.

Also referred to committee was a request from Miss Everice Parsons, county home demonstration agent, that some sort of insignia be provided for cars of officials of the Ulster County Extension Service, so that they would be allowed free parking in meter zones.

The "typical" American church is a small one, spending about $3,000 a year.

City Recreation

Works are convinced that every dollar available to the Department of Public Works, be used for the items listed in the paragraph above, and until the emergency in street maintenance, construction and reconstruction has been eliminated and the critical condition of our sewers, dump, equipment and the adjustment in wages and salaries have been corrected, facilities in the parks of the city should remain as they are until the time arrives when money can be spared for these facilities."

Alderman Martin termed this letter as an example of having the department of recreation under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works and said he could think of "no more appropos time than tonight" to offer the resolution which would create a five-man Recreation Commission.

The resolution calls the present condition of the recreation department "pathetic, lethargic and stagnant," and terms the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works over this department as "unwelcome."

It is further stated that there exists a "miserable failure of the recreation department during its recent years of existence to progress any further than a 'fair attempt' at a recreational program for only the youth of the city, due primarily to its handicap, operating under a department whose primary interest lies in street building, repair and maintenance."

The resolution would set up a five-man recreation commission "which shall possess all the powers and be subject to all the responsibilities of local authorities," under power granted the Common Council under the General Municipal Law of the state.

It is also proposed that the president of the board of education and the president of the board of public works be ex-officio members of the commission.

The resolution, together with the letter from the mayor wes referred to committe for study and will not be acted upon by the Common Council until a later meeting.

In speaking in favor of his resolution, Mr. Martin pointed out that Lackawanna, North Tonawanda and Kingston are the only three cities in the state in which the Board of Public Works has jurisdiction over the recreation department.

He declared that "the only sound goal for a community recreation program is one that is inclusive and democratic; one that serves both sexes, all ages, all races, people of all economic and social levels, national origins and religious preferences," and recommended that a woman be included on this commission.

He said he had been "deluged" with requests from parents associations, women's societies and individuals that something be done.

Alderman Buboltz spoke following the reading of Mayor Newkirk's letter, saying that, "Our idea was not to rebuild every park, to build pools and ski runs. We don't want to spend one million dollars, but we want a safe place to play."

He also criticized the Board of Public Works for holding meetings in the afternoon, when the councilmen are unable to attend, and for not cooperating with the council.

Further criticism of the letter came from Alderman Thomas F. Coughlin (D. 7th), who said, "The letter insinuates the Common Council doesn't know what is going on in the city." He charged that damage is done to the city parks by the dumping of snow removed from the streets, and suggested an amount be included in the sum appropriated for snow removal for the repair of that damage.

Another resolution offered by Alderman Martin Tuesday night asked that a one-story building be constructed at Forsyth Park to provide facilities for storage, repair and painting of all park and playground equipment and for the secondary purpose of housing animals and livestock shown annually at the Ulster County Fair. This was also referred to committee.

In 1942 community chests throughout the United States received contributions from an average of 23 per cent of the population.

ministrative salaries, it was stated covered $6,300 to Thomas G. Duffield as supervising principal and $3,600 to John C. Braun as assistant principal. The budget also contained an item of $10,000 as a repair reserve fund, Mr. Duffield explaining that the district was allowed to make this kind of provision.

Following the usual custom, after adjournment of the annual meeting a caucus was held to nominate candidates for three trustees for the three year term in place of Willard H. Peet, DeLoise Craft and Mrs. Marian Hart whose terms expire. That election is being held today from 12 noon to 4 o'clock.

A prolonged discussion ensued when nine names were presented and it was moved that the meeting adjourn without first having selected three names to go before the voters today as the nominees of the caucus for the three positions.

A recess finally was taken and Principal Duffield and the members of the Board retired to discuss the question. Returning Mr. Duffield announced that their opinion was all nine names should be submitted to the voters today. He gave as his authority for this decision Lester J. Roosa, District Superintendent of Schools, who had been contacted and who he said had advised that action.

The nine candidates named are: Mrs. Marian Hart, Willard H. Peet and DeLoise Craft, retiring trustees, and Foster Sheffield, Sherman Loucks, Harold Butler, Bertha Koserowitz, Joseph Gentile and Ben Miller.

For trustee of the Ellenville Public Library for a five year term E. Boyce TerBush, Jr., was re-nominated.

Poor Old Butch Is Dead

Glen Cove, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—Butch, who led a dog's life around here as the "Town Bum," is dead. But you can't tell how beloved a bum can be until he's gone. The Town Council is drafting a resolution of condolences. And the local theatre, where Butch frequently collapsed in the lobby, will show a short motion picture of his life. Butch died Sunday of a heart attack induced by rheumatism from sleeping on street corners. He put on 250 pounds of weight from food handouts at everybody's door. Adults say he was a St. Bernard. But children, who rode on his broad back, are convinced he was almost human.

Collision Blamed On Bee; Sedan and Big Truck Crash

The awry flight of a bee into the window of a sedan owned by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., of Poughkeepsie on Route 9-W near Marlborough Tuesday afternoon was the cause of a collision between that vehicle and a tractor-trailer, according to the state police.

Charles Bolz, Jr., 27, of 64 Market street, Poughkeepsie, driver of the sedan, and Harold Brower, 52, also of Poughkeepsie, who was riding with him, were injured slightly.

They were given first aid as another vehicle of the company arrived at the scene. Bolz, the report said, suffered lacerations of the face, and Brower abrasions and contusions of the knees. Neither required hospitalization.

The sedan was traveling south on the route when the bee flew in and caused the driver to swerve from his course, according to State Trooper Robert D. Conklin, who investigated.

The car cut across the highway and sideswiped the truck which was operated by William B. Devlin, 21, of Winthrop, Mass., the trooper said.

IBN SAUD BIG WINNER

The Senate War Investigating (Brewster) Committee isn't making as many front page headlines with its current investigation as it did with the Howard Hughes probe, but this one might prove to be more productive.

The committee says that the four big American oil firms that own the Arabian-American Oil Company (Aramco) overcharged the government from $20,000,000 to $38,000,000 on sales to the Navy between 1942 and 1947. This happened when Aramco set the price of oil at $1.05 a barrel after promising to sell to the Navy at 40 cents a barrel.

The committee's story, bolstered by documented evidence, recalls the panicky and almost forgotten days when Rommel and his Nazis were rolling on to Cairo with little prospect of being stopped. King Ibn Saud started playing hard to get about that time. So the oil companies, which were trying to get oil concessions from him, came to the government for help.

The government, says the Brewster Committee, responded with almost $100,000,000 of the taxpayers' money for the Saudi-Arabian monarch. In return, the Navy was to get oil at the 40-cent price. But after Rommel was driven back, the price went up to $1.05.

Further, the committee charges, oil company representatives held government positions—one was an assistant to the undersecretary of state—all during these oil negotiations, and gave their employers advance tips on every State Department move. At the same time the government didn't know what the oil companies were doing and, in spite of all the millions given in assistance, was allowed to have no control over the companies' policies.

The Navy has defended the oil purchases by saying that while it did pay $1.05 a barrel instead of 40 cents, the price was still 79 cents less than it would have had to pay at home or in the Dutch West Indies. So Aramco officials say their company really saved the Navy $26,500,000. They also say that Aramco gave Ibn Saud $16,000,000 while the government only gave him $18,000,000 in "direct lend-lease."

The committee comes back with the statement that Aramco presumably would repay itself these advances out of profits, while the lend-lease money is unrecoverable. It also charges that the parent company has set up foreign subsidiaries, with profits of more than $100,000,000, which aren't paying taxes to the United States.

Wherever the truth may lie in all these charges and counter-charges, it certainly is worth looking for. And it seems to us that it took a certain amount of courage in a Republican-controlled Senate committee to start this investigation of "big business" at a time when their party is passing the hat for presidential campaign funds.

We say a certain amount of courage, because if the Democrats had started yelling for action in this matter and action hadn't been forthcoming, some Republican candidates would have felt the taxpayers' reaction at the polls.

So as things stand now, it looks as if the taxpayers might be the losers in this Aramco deal. But there is no question of who the winner was. It was old Ibn Saud, the thread-bare, battle-scarred sheik who pulled one of the smartest one-man shakedowns in history to make himself a multi-millionaire.

All kinds of plants are good in their way, says a sentimental neighbor, but when in doubt, plant flowers.

SOUND IN INNER EARS

Edison's own remarks on how his deafness contributed to his scientific work are recalled in the recent book, "The Diary and Sundry Observations of Thomas A. Edison," compiled by Dagobert D. Runes. Edison referred to the deafness as an "insulation" from "the general uproar".

Some of the experimenting with sound recording and transmission was a result of desire to make his own ears more useful. But his poor hearing also drove Edison from casual social intercourse to the companionship of books and laboratory equipment. He He could shut himself away from meaningless sound, and concentrate his attention on that which interested him.

A physical defect may be for one person a deadly handicap, for another a key which opens doors which are closed to the physically whole. Persons in the latter group turn affliction into achievement.

It is a sorrowful thing to realize that millions of people in this world have never eaten a chicken sandwich.

Among other matters of questionable merit, Americans are the joiningest people in the visible universe.

THE LOYALTY PARADE

On May First, two parades marched the streets of New York: The parade of the loyal; the parade of the disloyal. The latter is an annual event, a feature of the international world revolution, a symbol of those who once believed in human liberty but have now become the agents, spies, provocateurs of Soviet Russia: The May First international celebration has often been accompanied by bloodshed and civil war. It has been adopted by Soviet Russia as its own. The loyal parade was a spontaneous expression of love for the United States of America by Americans.

It was astonishing how many marched in the loyal parade. For actually, most Americans are loyal to their country and require no special demonstrations to assert the fact. They are loyal day by day. They are loyal to the traditions of this land without feeling the need for external manifestations. Yet they marched, if for no other reason than to establish that that other display was a weak and tawdry thing, an ugly excrescence in a fair city.

But this also is demonstrated: The Communists were free to march and to announce their fealty to Stalin and their loyalty to Henry Wallace. Wonderful company Henry has got into! They shouted their hate for America and their love for Henry and he took no steps to repudiate the association. Poor, old Hank! Driven by ambition, he now plays the role similar to that of the lovers of Germany before the United States entered the war against Germany, the role of one, whose ambitions having been thwarted, uses any medium to project himself on the political arena.

There must be many in the United States who do not accept George Marshalls foreign policy as the acme of wisdom; but they also do not accept the leadership of the nation's officialdom Fifth Column.

The May First parade of the Comunists was, in New York, a Henry Wallace parade. The streethawkers sold Wallace buttons and Wallace neckties along with the usual Communist paraphernalia. It is increasingly difficult to believe that one reared in Iowa, of a Republican agricultural family, one who had held the second highest office in the land, could permit himself to be so used.

The loyal parade suffered one serious omission and it was noted. Not a single contingent appeared of the National Guard or of the armed forces of the United States. The absence of these units was too complete to prevent any other conclusion than that orders had come down from Washington forbidding them to march in the loyalty parade. No one prevented the Communists from marching in United States Military and Naval uniforms; someone must have issued a "confidential" instruction to keep loyal military contingents out of the loyalty parade. Who did it?

Presumably, it is a continuation of that stupid policy pursued by our State Department, that the United States must go easy on American Communists while we continue to do business with their mother country. That policy was best expressed by James Byrnes, when he was Secretary of State, in reply to Representative Bartel J. Jonkman of Michigan:

"You must realize, Congressman, that it is a difficult matter to do wholesale firing of people merely because they belong to what is here a minority party, when the same party is the sole and dominant party of a great country with which I have serious and difficult diplomatic negotiations."

In a word, our government recognized that an American Communist could be protected, even in a spying job within the government itself, by Stalin. This was the most amazing admission of unprincipled expediency, of impotence even to defend the country; some similar attitude must have been responsible for the universal absence of any Military or Naval contingent from the loyal parade. Certainly, the National Guard should have been there.

But never mind all that! It was a grand exhibition of loyalty, and the Mayor of New York, Bill O'Dwyer, was in the Grandstand to give the loyal marchers his official blessing. Apparently, Bill O'Dwyer was not worried lest Stalin disapprove. Next year, perhaps, millions will march. Let us make May Day American—as every day should be.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

TUBERCULOSIS

Although arthritis is stated to be the eldest disease of mankind, recent research work shows that tuberculosis is as old as the pyramids.

Despite the fact that tuberculosis was known these many centures, it was only during the past century that real knowledge of its cause with appropriate treatment became known.

The dramatic story of tuberculosis, with its terrible death rate unchecked for centuries to its present-day standing of curing practically all cases discovered early, is well told in Canada's "Health and Welfare," published monthly by its Department of National Health and Welfare.

"While the ancients knew the disease all too well, the cause and cure baffled them. We who are alive today can scarcely realize the discouragement of medical men as century after century passed with no progress made save to find what would 'not' cure the wasting sickness."

Because tuberculosis occurred so often in families, it was thought to be hereditary. What really causes tuberculosis is infection; and this infection can be handed to others just as can other infections such as the common cold, diphtheria and others. It is only natural then that the members of a family, one of which is afflicted with tuberculosis, should be the first ones to contract tuberculosis.

It is because tuberculosis may not show symptoms that arouse the suspicions of the patient or perhaps even the physician, that mass surveys including X-rays now are being conducted in Canada, the United States and other countries. As about three in every 1,000 chests examined show unsuspected tuberculosis and 90 per cent or more of these can be cured if treated early, it means that hundreds of thousands of lives are being saved throughout the world by these mass surveys.

The five reasons given for the decline of tuberculosis in Canada are: 1. Education. 2. Early diagnosis or discovery. 3. Prompt treatment. 4. Free treatment. 5. Rehabilitation—getting the patient back to work.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Nicholas Roerich, the Russian guru of the oriental cult which held the interest of many New Dealers and a god himself in the professed belief of Louis L. Horch, came to the United States in 1920. He was a landscape painter with mystical, spiritualistic and magical sidelines which attracted rich clients or customers. He could do coin tricks and blow smoke rings out of his ears. He was a student of several oriental religions and philosophies. Horch was his prize patron, or sucker. He seriously believed that Roerich's paintings had supernatural healing qualities and he certainly got his ideas on that subject from Roerich himself.

Roerich met Horch in 1922. Roerich was broke or thereabouts and Horch, a broker or speculator in international exchange, a very active box of dice in those days of scrambled valuta, was doughheavy at the time. Roerich had acquired a press agent of arty, if not artistic, quality who had known Mrs. Horch, first name Nettie, in her school days. Mrs. Horch is a person of sensitive, spiritual appearance. In an account of her association with Roerich, given after the spell of Roerich's voodoo had been broken, she had been completely taken in by the guru. Henry Wallace also freely admitted that he had been "taken in" and it will be shown beyond question that he was.

In a small apartment on 103rd street, New York, where the Roerichs lived, there were demonstrations of automatic writing and table-rapping. Mrs. Horch was encouraged to believe that Roerich was receiving teachings and guidance from a great spirit brotherhood. Members of the circle seriously believed that Roerich and Madam Roerich, who was known also by the cultish name of Modra, were the sole agents of the spirit world on earth and were here to usher in a new spiritual era. Mrs. Horch was allowed to see several books of teachings and records of writings whose contents had been set down in spiritualistic seances, some of them by automatic writing. Later, excerpts from these exclusive revelations were published in a book by Roerich.

Members of the cult understood that Roerich aspired to be the "ruler" of Siberia. Finally Roerich was to impose on the stupidity of Henry Wallace to obtain official credentials and a salary and expenses from the Department of Agriculture for a political and somewhat esthetic expedition to Asia on a pretext of collecting grass seed for the so-called Dust Bowl of Oklahoma. There are several references to this ambition of Roerich's to become "ruler" of Siberia, but there seems to be no definite statement of the actual plan. Whether he desired to become a frankly mundane political chief or a religious pontiff is not clearly stated in these allusions. Siberia was referred to by the code name of "Kansas."

One of the mysterious Guru letters says: "I have read with much interest your discussion of the difference between the leader and the 'ruler.'"

Horch finally came to suspect that Roerich had used him to promote this project.

Roerich's publicity was superb of its kind. He was no mere painter but a master, and no mere conversationalist with a smattering of many sorts of information but a savant. His opinions were dogma. He was a mystic, an artist with a spiritual power to put divine impulses on canvas. He was the receiver and interpreter of occult, supernatural and divine messages. All such pretensions were set forth in simulated news and literature heralding Roerich's approach and arrival. He was reported to have been a witness of miracles.

One story published in several American papers, but rejected by others, had it that Roerich had discovered an ancient original manuscript, contemporaneous with Christ, describing Christ as a wandering student in India in localities where Roerich was painting pictures. He was a pretty good painter, although some experts say his work wasn't art at all but just painting.

Under the spell of the squinty eyes and the two-legged beard which Roerich affected, thus heightening his Fu Manchu or Yat Gar Mein appearance, Horch staked him to a lot of money for an "expedition" to India, Soviet Russia, China and Tibet. He started in 1924 and was away three years, but there have been doubts as to where he went, although it is established that he didn't find time to get to Moscow. It was on this camping trip that Roerich was supposed to have discovered the manuscript about the missing chapter in the life of Christ.

Roerich came back to New York in 1929. His publicity had swollen him to enormous size. The unknown painter of 1920 was now a cultural figure of world renown. Jimmy Walker, the mayor, was kidded into unreeling the standard grade-A reception on the City Hall steps and an escort of motorcops.

Like Mortimer Snerd, about this time, here comes a loose-lip yokel out from behind the barn up around Ames, Ia., with his bang flopping and wiping away slobber on the back of his hand.

How can he be so dumb?

Well, it ain't easy, but practice makes perfect.

Railroad Situation Emphasizes That Political Deviation From Railway Labor Act Set Stage for Big Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 5—Presidential politics and union politics are at the bottom of the controversy that may bring a nation-wide railroad strike next week.

If the spirit and the letter of the Railway Labor Act had been followed in recent years, there would be no crisis today. But as long as either management or labor disregards the specific procedure of the law and thinks it can get a better deal by the use of "political pull," there will be little progress made toward the orderly settlement of labor disputes.

For many years the railroad industry has settled its controversies peaceably. The Railway Labor Act has been pointed to as a model in labor-management relations. But, unfortunately, the late President Roosevelt weakened once when he allowed labor unions to reject a Presidential fact-finding board's recommendations and then yielded to the demands of the unions. Once it is apparent that more is to be gained than lost by disregarding a Presidential board's recommendations and that the President himself, for political reasons, can be counted on to make concessions, the way is opened to confusion and strikes.

The present situation is that eighteen of the railroad unions have agreed to the proposals of a Presidential fact-finding board appointed in accordance with the law. Three unions are balking. If President Truman yields and grants demands of the unions representing 10 per cent of the rail workers, it will immediately affect agreements already reached between the railroads and the other 90 per cent of the railroad workers.

Will Mr. Truman stand his ground? The first step, of course, is seizure of the railroads. Under the 1916 law, the President is empowered to take over the railroads. Will the recalcitrant unions work under those conditions if their demands aren't met? Fortunately, Congress is in session and a law stipulating compulsory arbitration may be the next move.

The coal strike cost the nation such a heavy loss recently that the next piece of labor legislation confidently expected to be passed will be a law to protect the national safety and public health against injury through strikes in basic industries. Failure to supply fuel or transportation would be spelled out in such a law.

Up to now, the railroad brotherhood unions have managed to keep themselves free from the provisions of the Smith-Connally law of wartime and the Wagner Act and Taft-Hartley law. But a rail strike will precipitate overnight action, and the railroad unions may no longer have command of their own affairs through laws specifically related to their industry.

The railroad brotherhood unions have been outstanding for years as being led, in the main, by responsible officials. Except for vicious propaganda agencies which some of them maintain to excoriate or question the motives of any persons who disagree with them, the record of the railroad brotherhoods is without a blemish of Communism or radicalism.

It would be a disappointment to the nation and a reflection on the trade unionism of the rail workers if they forfeited the railway Labor Act and caused Congress to remove the special protection afforded their processes of collective bargaining and settlement.

The brotherhoods, however, have rival unions within their ranks and it isn't always possible for pressure from one union to influence the other. Thus today it is reported that of the three balking unions—engineers, firemen and switchmen—the engineers flatly are opposed to a strike but their leaders fear possible inroads by the firemen's union if the engineers don't go along with the revolt against the fact-finding board's recommendations.

The nation cannot afford a rail strike of even one day. President Truman may find it necessary to go to Congress or to seize the railroads in advance of May 11—the strike date.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, May 4—Mrs. William Russell was hostess to the Queen Esther Club Wednesday afternoon when Miss Carolyn Cooper, a Central Hudson Gas and Electric demonstrator was present. Those attending were interested in her talk concerning an electric casserole. Mrs. Wilbur Palmatier, Jr., was winner of the prize offered.

The U. D. Society will meet Saturday afternoon with Miss Laura Harcourt, hostess at the Stone house.

The monthly meeting of the nurse committee for the town of Lloyd met Wednesday afternoon in the Lent building. The chairman, Mrs. Bruff Olin wishes more residents would become interested and attend as there are committees needing members, and the town nurse, Miss Janet Hasbrouck needs assistance at the twice-a-month baby clinics. Necessary supplies have not been forthcoming so that Mrs. William Russell has been named to buy the immediate needs. Mrs. Frank F. Simpson and Mrs. Leslie Lindhe made up two bundles for the nurse to take where the needs are not in the homes. Mrs. Harold Seaman has contributed a bedspread and pillow cases and Mrs. Lottie Smith a urinal. The next meeting of the committee comes May 26.

Miss Edith Dickinson will entertain the meeting of the W.C.T.U. on May 13 at her home with a program arranged by Mrs. Herbert Greenland.

At the last meeting of the local Home Bureau a picnic was planned for May 24, at the home of Mrs. Carl Jenke on Grand street. All members are asked to bring a salad or covered dish of food. For dessert Mrs. Luther Filkins, Mrs. George Wilklow, Mrs. William Russell, and the hostess will provide coffee. It was voted to make a contribution to the Home Bureau Scholarship fund. This year the scholarship is named in honor of Mrs. Edward Young, Milton, and will go to a foreign high school girl for her education in this country. Reports of the county program meeting April 13 in Kingston was given by Mrs. William Russell which she and Mrs. Roscoe Wood attended. Dates for this month are: local exhibits of work May 2-8; Achievement day, May 18 at New Paltz; May 18-19 for New York Federation meeting at Vassar College with banquet at Nelson House on the 18th. A prize has been offered in the county for the best unit scrapbook during the coming year. Projects for the coming year include beginner's sewing projects, advanced sewing, plastic bags, huck towel bags, homemade toys, health, flower arrangements, winter bouquets, plumbing, electrical repairs, refinishing furniture. An exhibit of project work is being displayed in the local bakery.

Miss Ruth Haynes, Hartford, Conn., was a Thursday to Saturday guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lent. Miss Haynes, a former resident, will graduate from school in Hartford May 17 and will have the same position for the Connecticut Church Women in religious education as she occupied last year in that state.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brush and daughter, New Hyde Park, spent last week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham.

Members of the Past Noble Grands Club of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge had their annual outing Wednesday night when they dined at Judies, Kingston, and attended the picture, "I Remember Mama."

Mrs. Henry Columbe is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Winegar, Newark, N. J.

Library of Automobilia

April 29, 1948.

Editor, The Freeman:

In response to your news article of April 23 on the fine work of our state historian, Dr. Albert B. Corey, in his quick thinking acquisition of the Vanderlyn relics, I think the spring campaign should be carried a little bit further than he pointed out.

True enough, papers prior to 1860 vintage have historical value, but Dr. Corey failed to take into consideration that history was recorded even after that date. In all fairness to historians and curators interested in the post 1860 periods I deem it necessary to inform the housewives Dr. Corey addresses that the papers he mentioned, along with such items as old carriage, automobile, and aircraft catalogues and magazines, should also be preserved as a vital part of our national historical collections. More and more, research is being made on the technical points of early motor cars and airplanes which will aid in the never ending tendency to improve our modern ones.

In addition, such museum pieces as old automobiles, carriages, lamps, horns, name plates, license plates, dusters, wheeled toys, models, and other interesting and educational items should by all means be preserved for their place in exhibition. In the forthcoming Museum of The Library of Automobilia, such items will be featured.

If, in any way, I can be of service to anyone having material of historical value, I shall honor all correspondence addressed to The Library of Automobilia, "On the Bend at Block Park," Kingston, New York, or I may be reached by calling Kingston 4969-W. Donations to The Museum of The Library of Automobilia and correspondence concerning donations should be sent to that address.

Respectfully submitted,
Yours sincerely,
JOHN W. BUCK, Jr.,
Curator.

Woman's 12-Year Sleep Ends; Now She's Active

White Pine, Tenn., May 5 (AP)—A 12-year "sleep" has ended for a 52-year-old Tennessean.

Dr. Jarret Williams reported yesterday that Mrs. Clara Runnels, suffering with what he called a mild form of encephalitis, had been unable from all accounts to recognize anyone until recently.

Mrs. Runnels apparently remembers little of the 12 years she spent abed, the doctor added.

Her first word, spoken since she became ill in 1936 were addressed a short time ago to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Surtain, with whom she lives.

Following a daily custom of long standing, Mrs. Surtain went to Mrs. Runnels' room and asked, "How are you this morning?"

"I am just fine," the patient said, opening her eyes. "How are you?"

That brief conversation, Mrs. Surtain said, almost scared her out of her wits.

Nowadays, Mrs. Runnels is up and about the house.

$19,000 is needed to carry the YMCA on the next 12 months.

Woodstock School Budget Is Lower

District 2 Will Raise $16,890 This Year; Drop of $760

Woodstock, May 5—A reduction of $760 in school taxes for the Woodstock School District 2 was adopted Tuesday night during a meeting of the school board and taxpayers of the village in the school house.

The amount to be raised in taxes this year will be $16,890, or a $760 drop as compared to last year's figures of $17,650.

The proposed budget was accepted by the taxpayers present after an additional appropriation of $500 was voted for the improvement of the school grounds.

A partial breakdown of the figures adopted in the budget follows: General control, $425; instructional service, $16,650; operation of plant, $1,620; maintenance of plant, $1,450; auxiliary agencies, $3,300.50; fixed charges, $2,094.50; and capital charges, $1,890 for a total of $26,890.

Typhoid Epidemic Feared in Palestine

Acre, Palestine, May 5 (AP)—Authorities expressed fear today of a typhoid epidemic. Eighty-two cases—46 of them British—already have been reported in this crowded city.

A city official said the mayor and head of the Acre Health Department are in Lebanon appealing for serum to inoculate Acre's 15,000 inhabitants.

An Arab spokesman in Haifa said the Lebanse government had promised to send typhoid serum and a team of about 10 doctors and nurses to fight the disease.

Forty of the British victims are soldiers from one company of the Middlesex regiment. The other six are constables. Almost 100 other members of the British company have been removed from the Acre area and isolated in a camp near the Haifa airport.

Delegates to Meet

Albany, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—New York's 97 delegates to the Republican National Convention solidly behind Governor Dewey, will meet here Monday to select a floor leader and map strategy. State Chairman Glen R. Bedenkapp, who called the meeting, declined to predict who would be named. The leader, however, is expected to come from among Dewey's three campaign strategists, Edwin F. Jaeckle of Buffalo, J. Russel Sprague of Lincoln and Herbert Brownell, Jr., of New York city. Sprague and Mrs. Charles W. Weis, Jr., of Rochester are expected to be renamed national committeeman.

Russians Deny Blocking Programs

Washington, May 5 (AP) — Moscow says Russians aren't "jamming" American broadcasts to Siberia.

But State Department officials, disclosing this today, said someone is.

Loud squeals and other discordant noises first were reported blacking out the broadcasts late in February. Since the interference came only during the period used by the Voice of America, local atmospheric upsets were ruled out.

American ships have reported tracing the squeal to a powerful Soviet station at Kharbarovsk in Siberia.

Buddy Poppy Sale Starts on May 24

According to Commander Howard Shurter of Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Buddy Poppies, symbol of aid to needy and disabled veterans of all wars, will go on sale in Kingston Monday, May 24, and the fund raising campaign will continue through the 29th.

Commander Shurter informed The Freeman that this year members of the Ladies' Auxiliary are more enthusiastic than ever concerning the Buddy Poppy drive, and have offered their wholehearted cooperation in offering the little flowers for sale to Kingstonians.

Of the total donations collected during the sale, Commander Shurter stressed, two-thirds will remain in Kingston for local veteran welfare work. The remainder will go toward payment for the labor of disabled veterans who made the poppies, to maintenance of the V.F.W. Rehabilitation Service which handles nearly half of all veteran claims, and partial support of the V.F.W. National Home for war orphans and widows at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Two Men Ordered Held for Hearing

New York, May 5 (AP)—Two men, accused by a Bronx storekeeper of robbing him of $93, were ordered held for a hearing May 11 when they appeared yesterday before Magistrate Ambrose J. Haddock.

The storekeeper, Herman Mensing, operator of a delicatessen at 4273 Katonah avenue, said he was held up and robbed in his store Sunday morning. He identified the two men as participants in the robbery.

The defendants are Adolph Castelluccio, 30, of 41-08 247th street, Little Neck, and Anthony Biondi, 30, of 654 East 224th street, the Bronx.

Bail for Castelluccio was fixed at $2,500 on an assault and robbery charge and an additional $500 on a second charge of illegal possession of a gun. Biondi was held in $2,500 on a robbery count.

Application Approved

New York, May 6 (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman announced today his approval of an application by the Binghamton Housing Authority, of which Darwin Wales is chairman, for a state loan of $1,970,000 to be used in construction of a permanent low rent housing project in Binghamton. The development, first in this area, will accommodate 180 low income families at an average monthly rental of $8.42 a room. The project will be eligible for cash subsidies to be paid by the state of up to $66,980 annually, necessary to maintain its low rent status.

$24,193 Budget Is Adopted in Hurley School District

Bus Travel of $2,000 Is Additional; Officers Are Reelected to Serve

At the annual meeting of School District No. 4, town of Hurley last evening a budget of $24,193.80 was unanimously adopted together with an additional sum of $2,000 for local bus transportation. The vote was 108 in favor of adaption of the budget.

Two names were suggested for trustee for the three year term, Samuel Vaughn, whose term expired, and George Dixon. On the vote Mr. Vaughn was re-elected by a vote of 75 to 38. Paul W. Weber was re-elected treasurer, and Schuyler Weidner was re-elected clerk. The Kingston high school was again designated as the school to which the district would send secondary grade pupils.

There was a discussion of the advisability of purchasing a school bus for transportation of local pupils but the proposition was tabled and no action taken.

During the meeting it was disclosed that the taxpayers would receive a tax reduction of approximately $3 per thousand of assessed valuation for the coming year, due to a refund of state aid tax money brought about through the increased assessed valuation in the town. This year's tax rate will be approximately $10.50 per thousand.

During the meeting a report was read from the Parents' Club which collected $402 to provide certain things needed by the school. Materials obtained were a record player; record library with non-breakable records for musical instruction; album of march records; large record cabinet; gymnasium equipment; mats to pad the pillars in the children's play area; cleaning, repair and synchronization of the motion picture projector; repair and tuning of primary room piano; expenses paid for Christmas celebration, school picnic and graduation.

The remaining unspent balance of the collection, $66.34, was voted to be used toward an amplifier, loudspeaker and microphone combination if the trustees would give the balance to make up the total cost of $120. This, it was pointed out, would be of great service in conjunction with the record player and motion picture projector as well as for outdoor functions of the school.

Cunney, Wesley Harlow, Louie Freese, Roy Jacobs and members of the Council of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Tuesday morning the body was taken to Rochester, where funeral services were held and burial will be later in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Club Power House Burns

Lake Placid, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—The Lake Placid Club power house was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last night. The three-story frame structure housed electrical generating machinery and boilers for the club. Club Manager Charles Todd said most of the machinery could be salvaged. He said neither the cause nor the extent of the damage had been determined. Todd said the club was getting power temporarily from village electric lines.

Four Negligence Actions Settled

Four negligence actions growing out of an automobile accident near Quarryville were announced settled at the opening of court this morning, following selection of a jury Tuesday afternoon before Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Supreme Court. Court then recessed until Monday.

The actions were brought by Mary Ann Croom, Edward L. Croom, Jr., their parents, Edward L., and Johanna E. Croom of Marlborough and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomson to recover for injuries suffered in a collision with one of the Harry L. McBride milk trucks. Counsel for the defense on Tuesday when selecting the jury said the defendant was to blame for the accident and the only matter which would be submitted to the jury was the question of extent of injuries and resultant damages. The driver of the vehicle denied guilt but A. E. Ames, counsel for the defendant, said it was his opinion that the defendant's vehicle was at fault. N. LeVan Haver appeared for the plaintiffs.

When court convened this morning the cases were announced settled and the jury was discharged from further service.

'Galloping Ghosts' At Clintondale Hall

Clintondale, May 5—In the Grange Hall here Friday at 8:15 p. m. there will be a repeat performance by Plattekill Grange dramatists of the three-act comedy mystery, "Galloping Ghosts," which pleased audiences on two previous occasions.

The play has been judged by many as among the best ever produced by the Grangers. The local performance will be under the auspices of Friends' Church with Mrs. Harold Sutton as general chairman and Mrs. Jerome Hurd as ticket chairman.

Those taking part in the comedy are Mrs. Leander Minard, Jerry Hughes, Richard Hughes, Joan Grismer, Charles Thompson, Marie Farrell, Nancy Ruggerio, Mrs. Jerry Hughes, Charles Everett, Mary Harris and Donald Myers.

Brock Pleads Guilty

New York, May 5 (AP)—Edward Brock, 17-year-old high school student, pleaded guilty today to a charge of second degree murder in the shooting of another youth who caught him stealing a car. The victim was Joseph Valentino, 15, who was killed last January as he pursued Brock at 155th street and Courtlandt avenue, the Bronx. Bronx County Judge Samuel Joseph said he would pronounce sentence May 26. John Monroe, 19, who was indicted along with Brock on a robbery charge resulting from a drug store holdup preceding the car theft, pleaded guilty to that charge. He too will be sentenced May 26.

Willkie Is Victor

Rushville, Ind., May 5 (AP)—Philip Willkie, who unlike his famous father started his political career at the bottom of the ladder, won his first election by a smashing margin in yesterday's Indiana primary. The 28-year-old son of the late Wendell Willkie won the Republican nomination for a seat in the State House of Representatives from Rush and Henry counties. He piled up 5,831 votes to 1,215 for his opponent—a margin of nearly 5 to 1. Willkie credits his father's name for a large part in his triumph.

Commuters Are Late

New York, May 5 (AP)—Thousands of Long Island Railroad commuters were late for work today when a train on the north shore branch and another on the south shore line developed brake trouble. On the north shore branch, the 7:52 a. m. (EDT) train from Great Neck was 28 minutes late arriving at Pennsylvania Station. Four other trains on the line were delayed because of the trouble. On the south shore line, the 7:32 a. m. train from Babylon was nine minutes late reaching Manhattan.

Says Commanders Recalled

Berlin, May 5 (AP)—The German-language newspaper of the American Military Government said today the Russians have recalled one of their commanders in Germany for paying an unofficial visit to the U. S. zone of Berlin. The newspaper, "Neue Zeitung," identified the officer as Col. S. S. Maximov, former commandant at the Karlshorst headquarters of the Soviet Military Administration. The Russians previously have taken measures to restrict intercourse of their personnel in Berlin with personnel of the western powers.

Stockyards Threatened

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—The Chicago Stockyards, the world's largest, was threatened today by a possible strike of 400 C.I.O. stockhandlers in a dispute over wages. Frank Monaghan, president of Local 44, C.I.O. Stockhandlers Union, said the rank and file last night unanimously approved a strike if the workers are not granted "a substantial wage increase." Monaghan said negotiations with the union stockyards and Transit Co. are continuing.

Bahl's Convertible Is Found in Rifton

The 1938 DeSoto convertible coupe owned by Milton Bahl of 336 Albany avenue, reported stolen April 22, was found shortly after noon Tuesday by Lauren Wynkoop in Rifton, it was announced today by the police.

According to the report, Wynkoop first notified Sheriff George C. Smith's office and the message was relayed to the police department. Detective Wesley Cramer and the owner of the car went to Rifton to identify the vehicle.

Bahl informed The Freeman today that when the car was found Tuesday there was a flat rear tire and that the spare tire was missing. He also said that some of the upholstery in the car had been torn, all locks on the doors had been broken and that there were several dents in the fenders. Keys of the car also were missing, he said.

The owner reported the loss of his car, valued at $500, to the police April 22. He said that the car was taken from the parking grounds off the Fair street extension sometime between 8:40 and 10:55 p. m. It had been parked by his wife while she attended the movies uptown.

Demands Are Stressed

Providence, R. I., May 5 (AP)—Representatives of 600 striking Providence school teachers insisted today their demands for a single salary schedule will have to be met before they return to work. Walter Brownsward, president of the A.F.L. Teachers Alliance, said the strike, which began yesterday, will end only "upon definite assurance of a single salary schedule next fall." Under the single salary program teachers would receive the same pay regardless of the grade taught. They also asked an immediate $200 pay raise and subsequent pay boosts of $150 yearly to a $4,800 maximum. The scale now ranges from $2,100 to $4,800 a year. A higher rate is paid teachers in certain grades.

Man Is Killed

New York, May 5 (AP)—An unidentified Negro who was beating a patrolman with a nightstick was shot and killed by the officer today outside a Harlem apartment (301 West 151st street). Patrolman Thomas Hollingsworth told fellow officers he was called to the apartment by the superintendent to eject the Negro, who was causing a disturbance. As Hollingsworth took the man to the street, he grabbed the patrolman's nightstick and began clubbing him, police said. When he refused to stop, Hollingsworth shot him.

Methodists Near Parley End

Boston, May 5 (AP)—The Methodist Church's top legislative body today settled down to an intensive business session with only two full days of its 12-day conference still to go. When 54 bishops and 800 delegates representing many nations arrived a week ago they had 1,000 "memorials" or petitions for action. Since then more than 500 others have come in from previous conferences or individual Methodists.

Says Officer Is Hiding

London, May 5 (AP)—The Daily Herald reported today that Lt. Col. J. D. Tassojen, a Soviet officer who the Russians say was kidnaped in Germany by Americans, is in hiding in Britain as a political refugee. The British Foreign Office refused to confirm or deny the report.

Trinity Lutheran to Hold Ascension Day Service

The annual Ascension Day service of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. The festival service commemorates the Ascension of Christ 40 days after Easter.

There will be the singing of the traditional evening hymns and the usual quiet time will be observed for the individual petitions of the members of the congregation. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor, will preach on the theme, "The Call of Eternity."

The following musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Willard A. Burke, Trinity choir director, and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist:

Prelude: Canzonetta, Frysinger; anthem, Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones, Vigili et Sancti; solo, Repent Ye, John Prindle Scott, rendered by Richard Meyer; postlude, And the Glory of the Lord, Handel.

The senior choir will rehearse immediately after the service.

The public is invited to attend.

Fire Damage Is Less Than $10,000 Estimate

Woodstock, May 5—Damage to the two-story house of Adolf Windsperger on the Woodstock-Saugerties road, which was partly gutted by fire Sunday, was not as extensive as originally reported, R. J. Lapo of the Woodstock fire department said today.

Much of the interior and contents of the house was destroyed in the blaze, Lapo said, but the work of the Woodstock firemen saved the structure, which is part wood and part stone, from being levelled by the blaze.

The house which is architectually unique is located near the intersection of the Zena road. The damage by the fire is believed to be considerably under the earlier estimate of $10,000.

Filing Is Urged

Albany, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—All former members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (W.A.A.C.) are urged by the Tax Department to file applications for a share of the state's $400,000,000 war bonus. This advice came yesterday a few hours after Attorney General Goldstein held that members of the W.A.A.C. were entitled to a bonus. Previously, only those women who served in the Women's Army Corps (W.A.C.) were considered eligible. The W.A.A.C. became the W.A.C. in 1943 when it was reorganized as a formal component of the Army.

Lewis Asks Decision

Washington, May 5 (AP)—John L. Lewis today asked a federal court to toss out a plea by soft coal operators for an order blocking pension payments to retired miners. The order was sought by Ezra Van Horn, a trustee of the miners' $34,000,000 welfare and retirement fund. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges (R.-N.H.) are the other trustees. Van Horn asked for an injunction to bar $100-a-month pension payments under a compromise plan approved by Lewis and Bridges, but opposed by Van Horn.

11 Indictments Are Handed Up Today In Orange County

Newburgh, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—Eleven sealed indictments were handed up to Supreme Court Justice James W. Bailey today by the February grand jury.

At the request of District Attorney Stanley B. Johnson, who had been conducting an investigation into alleged gambling in Orange county, all of the indictments were ordered transferred to the county court. Court officials would give no indication as to the nature of the sealed true bills.

The gambling investigation was begun February 13. In one phase of it Douglas V. Clarke, news editor, and Charles L. Leonard, 27, reporter for the Newburgh News, were sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $100 each for declining to tell the grand jury where they obtained lottery tickets reproduced in the News.

The fines and jail sentences subsequently were ruled illegal in an order signed by Supreme Court Justice Frank H. Coyne. The men had spent five days in jail.

attempts. At about the same time, Francis A. Silver, general counsel of the Office of Defense Transportation, disclosed that a World War I emergency law still on the books carries authority for government seizure.

Justice Department lawyers privately backed up Silver's view.

Other high administration officials want to avoid this step because of the uncertainty they foresee in getting men to run the trains if the government should step in.

Those threatening to strike are the 190,000 members of the Brotherhoods of Firemen and Enginemen, Locomotive Engineers, and Switchmen. While they make up only a small part of the more than 1,250,000 rail workers, they run the locomotives and pull the switches. The lines would be crippled without them.

They want a 30 per cent wage increase and changes in operating rules. Other rail unions settled for the 15½ cents an hour boost which a presidential emergency board recommended as a fair settlement in the current dispute.

propriate $27 to replace broken windows in the municipal auditorium.

Motions introduced Tuesday night and referred to committee were:

To change the name of Taylor avenue to Sharon lane, because of the present confusion between Taylor avenue and Taylor street, both in the Twelfth Ward. Offered by Alderman Martin.

To install a street light at the intersection of Miller's lane and Lucas avenue. Offered by Alderman Martin.

To place a fire alarm box in the most accessible location in the Murphy street area of the Twelfth Ward, underneath the Washington avenue viaduct. Offered by Alderman Martin.

All the aldermen were present at the meeting, which began promptly at 7:30 and adjourned at 10 p. m., and unusually large amount of business being transacted. Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turek presided.

Disorderly Conduct Cases Are Adjourned in Court

Two cases of disorderly conduct charges were adjourned until later dates in police court this morning presided over by Judge Matthew V. Cahill. In one other case, Daniel Collins, 66, who was arrested on a sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster County Jail.

George Harold Wolf, 27, of 350 Broadway, and Albert Van Gaasbeck, 63, of 405 Hasbrouck avenue, both pleaded not guilty to charges of disorderly conduct. No date has been set for Wolf. The case against Van Gaasbeck was adjourned until May 24.

Explains School, Theatre

In explaining "The Bard Summer School of Theatre," Miss Freeborn said that it is designed to provide opportunities for intensive work in the theatre arts, and that the college is sponsoring a playhouse along with the school.

The playhouse, she said, will be a summer stock theatre with a company including members of Actors Equity Association.

Students who wish training as actors, directors, designers or technicians will study under the direction of the professional personnel of the playhouse, and will also participate in the productions.

The school will run for eight weeks opening June 19 and closing August 14. The first year, she said, will not be devoted to experimental works.

Miss Freeborn answered several questions from the members and stressed that "We would be honored if your club would give us your blessing."

Theodore R. Lee, second vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of Walter Donnaruma, president, who was in New York.

U.M.T. Is Opposed

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—The United Society of Friends Women today was on record as opposed to universal military training and selective service. The society, at its 22nd general conference yesterday, adopted resolutions which deplored a "foreign policy centered on military containment of Soviet Russia, backed by universal military training and a peace-time draft."

All Bird Full Length Picture At The Orpheum

The story behind "Bill and Coo," the first all-bird full length picture, in Supercolor, which opens Friday, May 7, at the Orpheum Theatre, begins with a comedian named Ken Murray. He'd won a host of friends during his long residence in Hollywood, in fact, his ardent admirers were legion in number . . . and he began to talk about a picture he wanted to make a picture starring birds.

Everyone scoffed at the suggestion. It was outboard of in the film business. Murray was told over and over it was ridiculous. It was agreed it might make a short, maybe, but a full length film, never. Even intimate friends laughed derisively when the subject was mentioned and agreed that Ken was going to the birds. The more they jeered, the more determined the comedian became to have the last laugh. So he packed from studio to studio, talking to producer after producer. They all liked Ken and earnestly advised him to stick to comic antics in his own field and save his money. It was hard enough to make a picture with intelligent human beings, let alone small feathered animals. How did he get such a crazy idea, anyway?

It all started from one of the vaudeville acts in Ken's long-running show, "Blackouts," performed by George Burton and his group of highly trained birds. Audiences acclaimed them on the stage, so why not Ken, was it impossible for the birds to repeat their amazing feats on the screen?

When he said as much to Herbert J. Yates, president of Republic Pictures, Ken almost keeled over when Yates immediately agreed with him. It was a novel idea, something different which Yates believed was good enough to be a smash success. For that, Ken could use Republic's stages, facilities, and, in time, distribution outlets—and even the studio's carefully rationed new color, Trucolor.

Ken put up the $250,000 for production costs—hardly bird seed in language—and acted as narrator, as well as producer. According to preview reports, ranging from "terrific" to "colossal" and "astonishing," neither Yates nor Murray has to worry about the reception of this pioneer bird effort. They have a hit on their hands.

Murray is gleefully reminding his friends of their prophecies about this "Our Town" with birds, as the comedian labels this picture. He who laughs last, laughs best in this case which may account for the guffaws emanating from comedian Murray.

Wedding Is Postponed

New York, May 5 (AP)—The wedding of movie actress Arline Judge and George Ross, Jr., scheduled for today, has been postponed indefinitely. Frederick Backer, Miss Judge's attorney, said last night that she and Ross, New York insurance executive, had authorized him to announce the "indefinite" postponement. Later Ross confirmed that the wedding was off indefinitely but said "there isn't any trouble" between him and the oft-married actress. Neither would comment on the reason for the change in plans.

Two Groups to Meet With U. S. Conciliator

New York, May 5 (AP)—Company and union officials arranged to meet with a federal mediator today in an effort to settle a wage dispute involving 24,000 long lines telephone workers in 42 states.

The union yesterday turned down an offer of the long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to extend the present contract for two years without a general wage increase.

The contract expires at midnight Saturday.

The American Union of Telephone Workers, formerly an independent union now affiliated with the C.I.O. Telephone Workers Organizing Committee, has asked a 30-cent hourly wage increase.

It also is seeking a 35-hour instead of a 40-hour week, and a pension minimum of $100 monthly. The union says current wages average $1.21 an hour.

Strike Is Called For 3 P.M. Friday Against 6 Lines

New York, May 5 (AP)—A strike against six privately-owned transit lines carrying 3,500,000 passengers a day has been called for 3 a. m. (E.S.T.) Friday.

The strike threat—the third in three weeks—was made last night by the Transport Workers Union (C.I.O.) in an attempt to force an immediate pay increase of 24 cents an hour for 7,300 workers.

The lines operate the buses and trolleys in Manhattan, the Bronx, lower Westchester county and part of Queens.

Theodore W. Kheel, director of the City Division of Labor Relations who has been striving to bring about an agreement, scheduled an emergency conference today with Mayor William O'Dwyer.

The new strike move was announced two hours after the Board of Transportation gave final official approval to a 24 cent an hour increase for the 40,000-odd employes of the city-owned subway, elevated and surface lines.

The city pay boost, to be financed by increased transit fares, is effective July 1, the day the fares go up. The union, which originally had sought a hike of 30 cents, has been hoping recently that the 24-cent figure would set a pattern for the private lines. With that in mind, the union called off a strike set for last Thursday.

The private lines, which plan to seek fare increases to finance wage boosts, have balked at union demands for immediate rises and retroactivity.

Ulster Jail's Cleanliness Is Praised by State Official

A very satisfactory degree of cleanliness and order is maintained at the Ulster county jail, according to a report received recently by Sheriff George C. Smith.

The report, which gives an April inspection date, lists as its sole recommendation the extension of the present project of replacing old niche toilets. Other regular housekeeping matters. Some of this work has already been done.

The report in full follows:

State of New York
State Commission of Correction
Governor Alfred E. Smith
State Office Building
Albany 1, N. Y.
May 3, 1948

Mr. George C. Smith
Sheriff of Ulster County
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

The State Commission of Correction has approved the enclosed report of inspection of the Ulster County Jail, Kingston, dated April 16, 1948.

Will you kindly advise what action is contemplated regarding the recommendation therein.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES D. MULLADY
Assistant Secretary

ULSTER COUNTY JAIL
Kingston

Inspected April 16, 1948, George C. Smith, sheriff.

The staff was listed in detail in the last report of inspection and it continues as reported at that time except for the addition of one relief jailer. The services of the relief men were authorized by the Board of Supervisors to cover absences necessitated by the granting of three-week annual vacations to jail employees who have also been allotted a yearly quota of twelve days sick leave.

There were 26 prisoners at the time of this inspection, as follows:

MALE		FEMALE
Adults	Minors	Adults
Awaiting Court Action
Serving Sentence
13	1	–
20	4	2

The prisoners were properly classified and the records which were neatly kept and up-to-date, showed that during the period since the last inspection on February 4, 1947, the highest population was 46, in August while the lowest number housed was 15, in April May and June.

Except for the litter necessarily occasioned by the work of replacing the old niche toilets, underway at the time of this inspection, a very satisfactory degree of cleanliness and order was evident throughout the jail. When the present work is completed, the seven cells on one side of each of the three regular housing tiers will be equipped with modern toilets, leaving an equal number with the niche toilets. This improvement has long been recommended by the Commission and it is urged that the work be continued until all the niche toilets have been replaced.

Individual cells were well arranged, mattresses and pillows in use were in good condition and white goods were clean. All occupied cells and most of those which were unoccupied were checked but no contraband was discovered. According to the sheriff, the services of an exterminating company are engaged and representatives visit the jail at least once a month in the regular program to keep the jail free of vermin.

All painted surfaces in the housing quarters were in good condition, this project having been completed during the winter, according to the sheriff.

At its November, 1947 meeting the Commission approved final plans for alterations at the jail which included an additional tier of cells and a visiting room. Information received at the time of this inspection indicates that as yet, no further action has been taken by county authorities with regard to proceeding with the alterations.

This inspection was begun just after the noon meal had been served and completed before the evening meal was ready. While no meals were observed, the record maintained of those previously served indicates a varied and substantial menu. There is a regularly employed civilian cook who prepares all foodstuffs served and who is assisted by one inmate helper whose duties are confined to dishwashing and other janitorial tasks in the kitchen. A high degree of cleanliness and order was evident in the kitchen, refrigerator and storeroom while foodstuffs on hand were of good quality and efficiently stored. As recommended in the last report of inspection, all items such as bleaches and cleaning fluid are now stored entirely separate from food supplies. Several inmate questioned at random voiced no complaints with regard to the quality of the food and the portions served. Except for the four "trusties" who, because of the nature of their assigned duties, are allowed small extras at mealtime and eat in the jail kitchen, all inmates receive the same food and have their meals in their respective cell sections. According to the sheriff, an officer is present and supervises the meals, the matron performing this task in connection with female prisoners.

There is some janitorial work for the "trusties" in the county office building and on the surrounding lawns and grounds. Otherwise the only employment opportunities are the usual cleaning and maintenance tasks about the jail itself. Sheriff Smith stated that prisoners assigned to work outside the jail are under supervision at all such times.

All inmates are privileged to write two letters per week, postage and stationery for which is furnished by the county. All mail is censored by the jailers who also examine any packages received before delivery to the prisoner to whom addressed. A mail censor permit is signed at the time of admission by each prisoner, the mail of those who refuse to sign being held in the office until time of release.

Also at the time of admission, all money and valuables of any description are taken from prisoners and placed in individual envelopes which are kept locked in the office safe until time of release. The envelope provides a record for such money and articles deposited, for any money expended by the prisoner during the time he is confined in the jail, and for the prisoner's signature (witnessed by an officer) at the time of entry and release.

According to the sheriff, discipline has been good since the last inspection, the only untoward incident being caused by one prisoner who inflicted superficial cuts on his wrist and neck while shaving. The safety razor was immediately taken from him by the jailer who was supervising the shaving, and the inmate thereafter examined by the jail physician. A report detailing the circumstances was filed with the Commission by the sheriff.

The jail physician is regularly appointed and comes on call. Prisoners are not examined routinely after admission unless they appear to be ill or injured. As described in the last report of inspection, there is a small supply of drugs kept under lock in the jail office, the jailer in charge on each shift retaining the key in his possession. The physician maintains a record, at the jail, of any treatments or medicines prescribed by him.

Inmates are required to bathe on admission and as there is a shower stall in connection with each cell section, they may bathe as often as they desire thereafter. Shaving is conducted twice weekly, under supervision, the safety razors and blades being kept in the jail office when not in use. Haircuts are supplied by prisoners who show some skill in the use of tools.

The procedure regarding visits is as described in the last report of inspection. The need for a more modern visiting arrangement has been commented on in previous reports of inspection and will be provided under plans approved by this Commission when it is possible to undertake the work.

Religious services are conducted each Sunday by representatives of the Volunteers of America. In addition, according to the sheriff, a prisoner may receive a visit from a clergyman of his own choosing.

Recommendations

1. That the project of replacing the old niche toilets be extended to include all regular housing quarters.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE E. VENTER, JR.
Inspector, State Commission of Correction

LADY THROWS CANE AWAY AFTER TAKING NEW TRU-AID FORMULA

One lady, who was unable to walk 6 weeks ago, due to rheumatic pains, says she is enjoying a normal life once again since she took TRU-AID. In fact, she says she has thrown her cane away. This lady had to stay in the house for weeks at a time, unable to get out much. Rheumatic pains centered in the joints of her knees and ankles. She says she felt stiff all over. But in less than a week's time, when she started taking TRU-AID, the awful rheumatic pains disappeared from her legs and ankles. She is well and happy today and says she wouldn't take a fortune for the relief TRU-AID has given her.

TRU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get TRU-AID. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

The hardest thing with "Easy Money" is to KEEP IT!

This is the week that Uncle Sam boosts your take-home pay.

Great news, eh? There are so many ways you can spend that money, so many things you want, even a few that you need.

But before you spend your tax reduction money, before you become another victim of "easy-come easy-go", ask yourself this question:

- Is there anything you or your family really need as much as the confidence and security that comes from money in the bank?

Yes, it's a great feeling to get this extra money, but it'll be a better feeling to watch this "found" money add up in your Savings Bank. So start with this first paycheck. Put those extra "tax" dollars in the Savings Bank every payday. If you haven't got a savings account, open one this week. Remember, the hardest thing to do with "easy money" is to keep it!

St. James Church Women to Have Fellowship Supper

A program and fellowship supper for all women of St. James Methodist Church will be sponsored by the W.S.C.S. and Wesleyan Service Guild will be held at the church Tuesday evening, May 11, 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Florence Reeves, former teacher at the American School for Girls, Lovetch, Bulgaria, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Meet Bulgaria."

During her stay in Bulgaria she became interested in religious art and had opportunity to study under professors of the University of Rome and in Venice and Florence, Italy. She returned to the United States following Munich and is an active member of the Interracial Fellowship of Greater New York. Last summer she taught in the School of Human Relations of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, of which the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop outstanding Negro leader in New York, is rector.

Reservations for the supper are to be made with Mrs. James Guttridge, telephone 4110 by Saturday. All women of the church and their friends are urged to attend. Music will be furnished by the Women's Choral Group of the Sanctuary Choir.

MENT RING

A widower going to marry soon, asks: "Would it be permissible to give my first wife's engagement ring to my fiancee? It seems so extravagant to leave it in a drawer and go out and buy another."

It would be unthinkable to give your fiancee the identical ring. However, you could take it to your jeweler and have the stones reset. Or perhaps the jeweler will make you an adequate allowance on the ring as it is which can be applied toward a new one.

When Substitute Bridge Player Is Invited

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone is telephoned at the last minute and asked to substitute for a regular member of a bridge group should the amount customarily contributed by each to be won by the highest score at the end of the evening, be paid by the substitute or by the hostess?

Answer: When an outsider, so to speak, is invited to substitute for a member the ordinary dues of the club—whether these go toward buying prizes—should be contributed by the hostess. If the club members are playing for money, then this guest would risk her own money just as the others do.

Ages of Wedding Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: Is a 15-year-old girl too young to be a maid of honor when the best man is in his early twenties? There are to be just the two attendants; the girl is a sister of the bride and the best man a brother of the groom.

Answer: Nothing could be in better taste.

Guests Related to Both Bride and Groom

Dear Mrs. Post: We're related to both the bride and groom—to her on my husband's side and the same relationship through me to the groom. So when asked which side we prefer to sit on at church, what do we say?

Answer: Unless designated where you are to sit, either on a pew card or the usher's list, it would be most considerate to choose the side of the smaller family which would help to even out the guests.

Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," includes description of clothes for afternoon and evening weddings. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Concert Association Observes 20th Year; Names Three Programs for Coming Series; Hears Pianist

Celebrating its 20th year of bringing outstanding programs in the concert world to Kingston audiences, Kingston Community Concerts Association held an anniversary dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday night.

Three of the concerts for next season were announced as St. Louis Sinfonietta, a little symphony of 21 musicians; Nadine Conner, soprano of radio and opera fame; and Mario Lanza, young American tenor of radio fame chosen to play the role of young Caruso in the forthcoming movie "Life of Caruso." A fourth concert will be announced.

More than 50 workers attended the dinner which was held in conjunction with the membership campaign. As a special treat William Schatzkamer, young pianist, entertained.

Lawrence Bernhardt, Eastern manager of the Community Concert Service, was present to congratulate the local group from the New York office and reviewed the programs which have been presented in Kingston during the past two decades. "After 20 years of presenting great concerts such as you have given here, you can well be proud of your community concert association," he told the workers.

Such names as Elizabeth Rethberg, Nelson Eddy, Richard Crooks, Mildred Dilling, Barrere Little Symphony, Jose Iturbi, Rose Bampton, Albert Spalding, Christopher Lynch, Whittemore and Lowe, Witold Maleuzynski, Charles Kullman, Igor Gorin, and several symphonies were only a few mentioned.

Among the guests of honor from the New York office were Miss Eleanor French, daughter of Ward French, president of the service; and his secretary, Miss Virginia Henderson, who in private life is the wife of Sascha Gorodnitzki, famous pianist. Both Mr. French and Robert Ferguson, vice president of the Community Concerts Service, were unable to be present at the celebration because they were attending an important meeting of the New York critics. They sent congratulatory telegrams to the local association.

Mrs. Marjorie Lee, field representative, who will be in Kingston during the week to assist in the current campaign, also spoke to the workers. She advanced the idea of Ward French, that "music is fun" as well as serious entertainment and based the success of the community concert associations on his ability to build programs around this idea. She urged workers to complete their reports early and especially to check with headquarters in the hotel Thursday.

The membership campaign will be held this week only. Admission to the concerts is by membership card only and no single admissions for concerts are sold. The association hopes to repeat the success of a capacity house this year.

Announcement was made that a sound film showing several of the artists is available for the workers to use in group meetings this week. The film was shown at the dinner and pictures Appleton and Field, duo-pianists; Carol Glenn, violinist; John Sebastian, harmonica virtuoso; William Primrose, violist; Sascha Gorodnitzki, pianist; and Igor Gorin, baritone.

Schatzkamer was presented and played most brilliantly. Apparently at ease but expressing almost a gamut of emotion he played Organ Prelude in G Minor by Bach transcribed for piano by Alexander Siloti, with whom the pianist studied; Ballade in A Flat, Chopin; Prelude in G Major, Rachmaninoff; Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6, Liszt; Mazurka in A Minor, Chopin.

The artist is a Juilliard graduate, soloist at Lewisohn Stadium and attracted country-wide attention as piano soloist on programs of Paul Robeson. This season he returns to the concert stage.

N. LeVan Haver, president of the local association, also commended the workers.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. Haver and Mrs. H. L. Bibby.

The British House of Commons is part of a group of buildings which cover eight acres, two miles of passages, 100 stairways and more than 1,100 rooms.

Rosary Society Plans Strawberry Festival

At the regular monthly meeting Sunday afternoon, Rosary Society of the Immaculate Conception Church made plans to hold its Strawberry Festival Sunday, June 27, on the school grounds, Delaware avenue. This annual affair proved a success both socially and financially last year so the members are planning to repeat the plans.

Mrs. Mary Janeczek, president, has asked all members to work. The Rev. Joseph Sieczek, pastor, stressed the needs of the church and complimented the Rosarians on their fine cooperation with their officers.

After the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Hurley Clubs Will Repeat Minstrel

The minstrel, "Pharmaceutical Cuties," given by the Berean and Service Clubs of the Hurley Reformed Church, will be repeated by popular request tonight at 8 o'clock in the Hurley School Auditorium. Mrs. John R. Sutton is interlocutor and the cast of "cuties" promises there won't be a dull moment.

William A. Coy, Jr., Weds Miss Martha Schlesinger

Miss Martha E. Schlesinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schlesinger of Marlborough was married April 25 to William A. Coy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Coy, Sr., of Highland. The double ring ceremony was performed in Clintondale Friend's Church with the Rev. Marlin Dawson officiating.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with fingertip veil of illusion caught to a pearl studded bonnet and trimmed with a crown of lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley and white rosebuds.

The bride's sister, Miss Marie Schlesinger of Marlborough, was maid of honor. Other attendants were the Misses Patricia and Barbara Coy of Highland and Helen Linda Schlesinger of Marlborough who was flower girl. They wore matching gowns of various shades of taffeta faille. The maid of honor carried blue sweet peas and the bridesmaids, American Beauty roses. The flower girl in ivory organdy carried a nosegay of sweet peas.

Warren Wilson of Buffalo was best man. Ushers were Dwight Eisgraw of Congress and John Worsh of Poughkeepsie.

The church was decorated with palms, carnations and snapdragons. A reception was held at Ronnie's Terrace, Roseton. The couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and will make their home in Highland. The bride wore for traveling a royal blue suit with pale pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Coy is a graduate of Marlborough Central High School and attended Syracuse University. She is employed at the New York State Employment Service in Newburgh. Associated with his father on a fruit farm in Highland, Mr. Coy was graduated from Highland High School and completed a two year specialized course in agriculture at Cornell University. Both are members of Friend's Church, Clintondale.

Chiropractors' Wives Give Shower for Mrs. C. J. Bell

A surprise stork shower was given Mrs. Clifford J. Bell, 22 Washington avenue, by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New York State Chiropractors Society, District No. 10, Sunday at Jeffersonville. Those attending were Mrs. Joseph Brandt of Livingston Manor, the hostess; Mrs. Joseph Mason, Ellenville; Mrs. Joseph Killeen, Mrs. Robert Jamison and Mrs. Frank Maniscalco, Newburgh; Mrs. Grant Edison, Middletown; Mrs. Dorn Eighmie, Poughkeepsie and Mrs. Bell of this city.

After their meeting, the chiropractors joined their wives for a supper.

Fellowship Guild Plans Cafeteria for Next Week

Fellowship Guild of First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday night. During the short business meeting plans were made for the cafeteria supper Wednesday, May 12, with servings at 5:30 and 6:30 p. m.

The program for the evening was a discussion of religious customs in Mexico led by Mrs. William J. McVey. Refreshments were served by the committee of Mrs. Raymond Caunitz, Mrs. Bernard Day, Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer and Mrs. George James.

Shirley Dirk Given Surprise Shower

Highland, May 5—Miss Shirley Dirk whose marriage to Eugene Sheeley is an event of May 15, was given a surprise personal shower, Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dirk, with Mrs. George Dirk, Mrs. Fred Erichsen, Mrs. George Erichsen as hostesses. The house decorations were in green, orchid and white featuring tiny parasols. A box resembling a large market basket contained the gifts. The dining table held a large cake topped with a minature bride and groom. There were 30 persons present.

Miss Dirk who makes her home with her grandfather, Henry Erichsen had entertained her grandfather, William Van Vliet, for a birthday dinner earlier in the evening was later taken for a ride by Mr. Sheeley which ended at the home of her parents and found the party awaiting her.

Will Meet Tonight

The annual corporate and business meeting of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, Spring and Wurts streets, will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the chapel. All members are requested to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Y-Deal Club Has Supper Discusses Camp Week-End

Members of the Y-Deal Club of the Y.W.C.A. held their monthly supper meeting Tuesday night with several guests attending. Afterward plans were discussed for the coming week-end at Camp Triangle Acres.

The group also discussed the convention at Wellesley College in July to which several of the girls will be sent as delegates of the local Y.W.C.A.

Thursday evening the girls will bowl at the Y.M.C.A. alleys. Next week the girls will play softball in back of Kingston High School. All are asked to attend.

Delhi D.A.R. Visits Kingston Sites

A delegation of 25 members of Lenni Lenape Chapter D.A.R. of Delhi made a pilgrimage to Kingston Tuesday as guests of Wiltwyck Chapter. They were received at the chapter house by Mrs. Maynard Mizel, regent, Mrs. Charles A. Terwilliger, Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm and Mrs. William Ochs.

After luncheon which was served to these guests, they were escorted to the Kingston Museum where Mrs. Mary Black Terwilliger, historic site superintendent of the Senate House, gave much information of historic value concerning the exhibits and relics of the Revolutionary and Civil War periods. Although the group did not visit the main Senate House building, the guests did visit the First Dutch Reformed Church and some of the old stone houses in the area of the Old Stockade.

Beacon High Hands Kingston First Baseball Defeat, 3 to 0

Joe Albany Loses First Start; Garo Holds Locals to 4 Blows

Turn about is fair play they say and Beacon High's baseball tossers took the adage seriously yesterday as they hung a 3-0 whitewash on Coach Bill Burke's Kingston High School nine before the usual 50 spectators at municipal stadium.

As painful as the setback was, it didn't hurt half as much as it would have in a DUSO League skirmish. At the moment the DUSO pennant is uppermost in Coach Burke's baseball designs. It was Kingston's first loss in four starts.

Pitcher Garo Mains, the fabulous [illegible] from the firing line [illegible] might possibly have [illegible] until dark without scoring [illegible]

Albany Starts

[illegible] delved into the second [illegible] yesterday and came up [illegible] Albany as starting pitcher. The Clan was adequate [illegible] second stint but Jack Garo, Beacon flinger, was absolutely perfect.

Garo dropped a four-hitter, 2-0, [illegible] Beacon on April 27 [illegible] granted a full measure of [illegible] yesterday. He restricted the Maroons to four widely scattered hits, fanned four and gave up three walks. Kingston never [illegible] up a real scoring threat against Garo's fast inside stuff and [illegible] curve ball.

An error by Albany paved the way for his downfall in the fifth after four nearly perfect rounds of pitching. Garo, a pitcher-slugger who bats fifth, sliced a double [illegible] third base. When Pollard [illegible] to the box, Albany anticipated a play at third base but [illegible] at second while "The Clown" attempted force sailed over Romeo's head into left field. Baylash's single to right scored Garo for the first run of the game. After Dexter fanned, Stella [illegible] Pollard with a beautiful [illegible] play and Russell slashed a [illegible] single to right for the third run.

Brown in Relief

Dan Brown pitched the last two innings for Kingston, facing only seven batters and yielding no hits. Garo was in trouble in the first inning when Lowe walked and Bill Scheffel singled past third with one out. The tall Beacon [illegible] got Mike Rienzo to jam [illegible] force play and Ghear tapped to the first baseman.

Lowe, a pinch hitter, walked and Ronnie Scheffel lined a solid single to right with one away in the fifth but the threat ended when Clark Mains, batting for Lowe, lofted into a double play.

Stadium Splinters

Russell, Beacon leadoff, with two singles was the only player to hit safely more than once. . . . Big Ed Weaver making a rapid recovery from his recent injury, worked at first base. . . . Dick Dulin, whose bat has been missed, will be in centerfield against Newburgh Friday afternoon. . . . Bill Schwab, with his new web-shoes, seems to thoroughly enjoy calling the kid games. . . . Nobody on the Kingston club is hitting with consistency or authority. . . . Maybe Newburgh will prove the tonic.

Bowling Scores

Eleanor Nagy, the buxom Singers' sub-anchor, had high triple honors all to herself in the Emerick Ladies' League last night with a 165-153-201-519 series.

No other keglerettes could make that statement. As a matter of fact, the closest competitors were Mary Smith 149-179-167-495 and that hardy perennial, Marge Jansen, 182-145-163-490.

Also in the top bracket for the night were Lillian Buswell 170-484; Carrie Mahor 178-487; and Bea Barley 194-488.

Bob Myers set the pace in the never-ending Central Rec circuit with 187-190-179-556. League historians said the current race would last only 71 more weeks.

Art Jansen socked 195-540; Ross Ellis 235, Rube Leventhal 209; Bert Burr 214-558; "Tarz" Spada 192-551; Adam Thiel 239-549; Frank Bartroff 192-548; Jim Costello 203; Ernie "Swede" Magnusson 198-565.

● Divots and Duffers:

Claude Harmon's no wrist-break theory in golf has been ridiculed by most of the "old style" golf teachers in the East. . . . These scoffers said Harmon's method defied physical laws and wouldn't work. . . . Harmon answered them by scoring a spectacular 60 at Seminole a year ago and by winning the Masters title this spring. . . . Quiet, unassuming, but deadly effective Maurice Davenport is the early season sensation at Wiltwyck. . . . His gross score of 78 bagged the honors in the second golf ball sweepstakes of the season last week-end. He also won the first event. . . . Frank Stone a tremendously improved linksman was two strokes behind with Billy Van Aken, city champion, three strokes off the pace.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Dr. Chester Van Gansbeek, the man who sets speed records when he travels nine holes, had low net with 78, with Art Davis, banker, and A. J. Anderson, farmer, third. . . . Other prize winners included Harold Henion, Dr. George Rifenbary, Angelus Pierrepont Modjeska, Harry Wiebee, Izzy Handler, Bill Zwick, Billy Van Aken and Lou "Kohoonor" Kantrowitz. . . . The first intra-club match is scheduled a week from Sunday. . . . Tournament chairman Bill Newkirk will announce the teams this week. . . . Twaalfskill's dining room is open again, serving luncheon and dinner every day except Monday. . . . Cennith O'Reilly announces that Tuesday is still "Ladies Day" and she is working out plans for a putting tournament and driving contest to be held this month. . . . The first Ladies Day luncheon was very successful and Carolyn Le Fevre plans five more during May. . . . Twaalfskill ladies extremely proud of the improvements to the women's locker room—a first class job all the way. . . . It is understood that Carrie Cashin, Kit O'Reilly and Florence Remmert had their hands in the transformation.

A special round trip by the ferry every Tuesday night would give many Kingstonians a chance to see the midget motor races at Rhinebeck. . . . The present safari via Highland-Poughkeepsie is too long for honest folks who have to work the next day.

If you see Paul "Sureshot" Freer some time, advise the learned City Baseball League statistician that The Freeman building is located downtown on Freeman Square.

● Of Men and Mice:

The major league picture is rapidly wearing toward pre-war standards. . . . Musial, DiMaggio and Ted Williams, the Big Stick, are thumping in accustomed style and Bob Feller seems headed for a 25-game season. . . . Ewell Blackwell blasted the last two times out. . . . Maybe the fellow is human after all. . . . Charlie Francello lining up a Catskill pitching wizard for the Wiltwyck Motor squad in the City League. . . . Clark Mains, the K.H.S. no-hit "phenom" will don the Chez Emile livery. . . . Snow fence home run barriers, a scoreboard, improved backstop facilities and additional bleachers will add color and zip to the Athletic Field this season. . . . George Zadany said to be ready for the pipe and slippers. . . . Tom Corrigan, ye olde Dodger, will be the No. 1 Jones Dairy receiver. . . . Newark Bears giving Lefty Joe Seber, Stroudsburg Poconos ace in the North Atlantic League last season, a thorough trial.

Ernest C. "The Duke" Landgraf just has a heck of a time keeping those managers out of umpires' dressing rooms, doesn't he?

Kevin "Chuck" Connors, wartime Kingston Recreation first sacker, made a horrendous debut with the Montreal Royals in the International League. . . . Chuck, a bobby sox idol in Kingston, struck out the first three times up and dropped the first three balls thrown to him. . . . Wes Westrum needs a couple of baseknocks badly to bolster his morale. . . . He can hit the long ball.

Whatever happened to the Kingston Rifle and Pistol Club in Ellenville?

Curtis Team To England

New York, May 5 (AP)—The treasured Curtis Cup begins a long-delayed trip to England today, chaperoned by seven of this country's best feminine golfers whose immediate objective is to bring it back.

The U. S. team was to sail early this afternoon to meet the British women at Birkdale, England, May 21 and 22, in the first Curtis Cup matches played in 10 years.

Since the trophy was put in play in 1932, the closest the British have come to a victory in the biennial competition was a tie at Gleneagles, Scotland, in 1936.

Mrs. Glenna Collet Vare of Merion, Pa., captain of the American contingent, calls it "the best team we could possibly have." The feeling between captain and team is mutual. In the words of Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., "we all think we have the best captain available."

Mrs. Vare and Mrs. Page are the only members of the American team who have played in Curtis Cup competition and the only ones who ever played previously in Britain.

The others are National Champion Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Dorothy Kielty of Los Angeles, Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex.

Common Council Unanimously Approves Bid

Colonial City Baseball, Inc., was given the green light to promote semi-pro baseball at municipal stadium this summer, when the Common Council last night unanimously accepted a recommendation of the Building, Repairs and Supplies Committee that the baseball syndicate get rights to municipal stadium.

The Kingston Colonials, as the club will be known, will now proceed with plans for a 25-game schedule against the best available opposition in the semi-pro ranks.

Pay $2,500 Rental

Under terms of an agreement reached between Colonial City Baseball, Inc., and the Building, Repairs and Supplies Committee, sanctioned by the council last night, the Colonials will pay $2,500 for stadium and concession rights.

Of this sum $1,875 represents rental for the stadium and $625 for concession rights. The latter item proved a stumbling block in early negotiations.

Although members of the B.R.S. Committee had protested violently against "premature" and "unauthorized" reports that the deal had been closed, it was generally believed that their favorable report would be acceptable to the Common Council.

Open May 29

Paul Zucca, chairman of the B.R.S. committee, presented the report. Other members of the committee are Aldermen Abram D. Relyea, James E. Martin, John Bubolitz and Peter F. Simpson.

Meanwhile, the Colonials will proceed with plans to stage the seasonal opener on Saturday, May 29 and continued with Wednesday and Saturday night baseball for a 25-game schedule.

President Addison Jones' syndicate will meet at the Stuyvesant Hotel at 7:30 tonight to announce further plans for the season.

Joe Hoffman, manager of the club, has been busy lining up a tentative roster and is expected to announce the names of several players.

Conditions Listed

Under the terms of the contract which was authorized, the schedule of the Colonials will not be permitted to conflict with the schedule of the Board of Education. Also, the agreement will not prevent other persons and organizations from using the stadium so long as it does not conflict with either the Board of Education or Colonial use of the stadium.

In the report of the Building, Repairs and Supplies Committee, which recommended the award of the contract, it was stated, "The Colonial baseball team has stated it plans to operate semi-pro baseball on the highest possible level and to use area talent as much as possible."

The resolution adopted by the council authorized the Building, Repairs and Supplies Committee, through its chairman, Alderman Paul Zucca, to enter into the agreement with Colonial Baseball, Inc.

Under terms of the contract, the sum of $500 is to be paid on each of three dates, June 15, July 15 and August 15. A down payment of $1,000 has already been made.

The concession rights apply to all events held at the stadium until December 31, 1948, whether or not the events are sponsored by Colonial Baseball, Inc.

The resolution was sponsored by Aldermen John Dawkins and Joseph Amato.

Cardinals Like Old Custom Of Winning Under Arclights

The St. Louis Cardinals this season are following an old National League custom—win at night and you win the pennant.

That proved to be the winning formula in 1946 and 1947. The Redbirds were the best night owls in '46, winning 32 and losing 22 for a .593 percentage. Brooklyn was second at night, 12 percentage points behind. The end of the season found the Cards nosing out the Dodgers in a playoff for the flag by almost the identical margin—13 percentage points.

Last year it was the other way around. Brooklyn had the best night game percentage, .703. The Cards were second with .689. That's the way they finished during the regular season—one-two.

Won Twice Already

The Cardinals have played twice under the lights this season, and won both times. They gained their second victory last night, defeating the Dodgers in St. Louis, 5-4. Last Saturday they whipped the Chicago Cubs, 4-0.

The Cards take undisputed possession of third place, a full game ahead of the fourth place Dodgers.

That was the only National League game yesterday. Rain washed out the scheduled day contest between the Philadelphia Phillies and Cubs at Chicago. A heavy downpour also put an abrupt halt to the Boston Braves-Pirates night game at Pittsburgh after the Bucs had taken a three-inning 3-0 lead. The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds were not scheduled.

A's Edge Indians

The hustling Philadelphia Athletics gained ground on the American League leading Cleveland Indians when they nipped the Tribe 8-5 in 10 innings at Philadelphia. The two teams are even in games. But the Indians lead by 52 percentage points, having played fewer games.

The New York Yankees moved up to third place, within a half game of the leaders, by thrashing the St. Louis Browns 6-1 at the Yankee Stadium.

The Boston Red Sox registered their third successive victory as they pasted the Detroit Tigers 6-3 at Fenway Park.

In the American League's only night game, the Chicago White Sox scored two runs in the top of the fifth inning to tie the Senators in Washington 3-3. Rain ended the game at the end of the fifth.

Earle Sande Suspended

New York, May 5 (AP)—Earl Sande, the "handy guy" of the saddle who made riding history a generation ago and later turned race horse owner and trainer, has been ruled off the nation's major tracks for 60 days.

The Jockey Club stewards handed out the suspension yesterday, 24 hours after the balding, 49-year-old former jockey had been arraigned on a federal charge of illegally possessing narcotics.

The Jockey Club issued a statement that the presence of a drug was found in a saliva test of Big Stage, a Sande-owned horse and a Kentucky Derby nominee which won the third race at Jamaica April 21 at odds of $12.40 for $2.

The suspension bars Sande from the grounds of any track under the jurisdiction of the turf's ruling body for the period the setdown is in effect.

Purse Forfeited

Sande's foreman, Eugene Donaldson, and a groom, Francis Booth were suspended for 30 days and denied the same privileges.

The Jockey Club tempered the punishment somewhat in Sande's case in announcing that if the former jockey finds it necessary to sell any of his horses he will be allowed on the track to do so.

The stewards ordered the purse Big Stage won forfeited and distributed "according to the method in force for a disqualification."

Big Stage, ridden by Eric Guerin, won the race, a six-furlong event for maiden three-year-olds, by 1½ lengths over the Dervish. Chaldean was third, Haberdasher fourth and Props fifth. The purse was $4,000 with $2,600 going to the winner, $800 for second, $400 for third and $200 for fourth.

CONNELLY

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

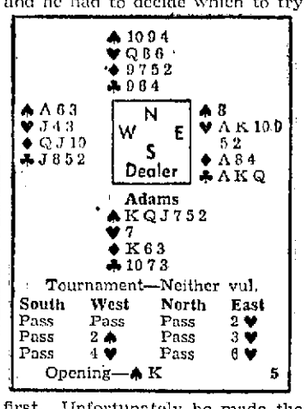
Heart Slam Beaten By Delayed Defense

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

The Central States tournament in Chicago shattered all previous attendance records. There were 140 pairs in the open pair event, won by Miss Elinor Murdock of Birmingham, Ala., and Oswald Jacoby of Dallas, Tex.

Maynard Adams of Chicago sent me today's hand from the tournament. He said he thought East and West bid a little too much, but nevertheless several pairs reached six hearts and made it. However, Adams (South) made a defensive play worth recording.

The opening lead of the king of spades was won in dummy. Now declarer could finesse for the king of diamonds or the queen of hearts and he had to decide which to try first. Unfortunately he made the wrong choice. If he had played the jack of hearts from dummy, he would have lost only the king of diamonds. But he led the queen of diamonds and took the finesse.



Adams knew declarer had a problem. East had given the situation a good deal of thought before leading the diamond queen. Therefore Adams refused to win it. Now believing that he had located the king of diamonds, declarer continued with the jack. Adams won this trick with the king, declarer could not get back into dummy to take the needed heart finesse, and the contract was defeated one trick.

Most players in six hearts elected to make the diamond play, figuring that even if it lost, they would have an entry into dummy to take the heart finesse.

Needed now, Contributions to the Y.M.C.A.

BrownSaysMasons Unalterably Down OnRedPhilosophy

New York, May 5 (AP)—"Masonry is unalterably opposed to Communism," says Guy H. Brown, of Utica, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of New York state.

Communism "stands opposed to the dearest tenets of our order—the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, the sanctity of human personality," he told the 167th annual state Masonic communication yesterday.

Brown said he believed he spoke the mind of Masonry in the United States when he made the statement, and also when he declared:

"The Masonic fraternity believes 100 per cent in the separation of church and state, and we view with grave concern any attempt to weaken such separation, as guaranteed by the first amendment to the Constitution."

Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Company, told the Masons at a communication dinner last night that the world has a "tremendous yearning for peace" despite "cynical quarreling around the horseshoe table at Lake Success."

Wilson, selected by the state Masonic group as the outstanding Mason in the nation, was presented with a medal by Brown "for distinguished service to humanity." He won this year's award for his work as chairman of President Truman's committee on civil rights.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Batman, attended the dinner to receive a similar medal for 1945. He won the honor for his military achievements, at a time when he was in a Japanese prison camp.

Gen. Wainwright, urging nationwide support of a draft and universal military training, told the dinner audience that "a strong country is not attacked."

STASSEN GETTING WALLACE VOTES

It was evident before the Ohio primary that Senator Taft would have to make a clean sweep of his home state in order to gain back an appreciable measure of campaign prestige.

Recognized as the most astute United States Senator and one of the few statesmen in the nation's capital, Taft nevertheless had been laid low by a deceptive and lavishly endowed Stassen machine.

The youthful leftist has been mapped and generaled by the master strategists who kept Roosevelt in office for life.

The youthful leftist has been running up majorities partly because he has been getting the Henry Wallace vote.

Especially was this evident in Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. In Wisconsin the New Deal wing temporarily voted Republican. It was told to do so.

It voted Republican to give New Dealer Stassen a boost, but above all to kill the MacArthur drive. MacArthur is the one man the minority backers of Stassen and Wallace fear.

It was masterful strategy, for it seriously if temporarily deflated the MacArthur boom, and it gave Stassen measureless national publicity.

Another factor contributed to the big Stassen vote in Wisconsin: The so-called Scandinavian vote went solidly for him because it believed him to be Scandinavian. The truth is beginning to leak out. A Swedish woman who had just discovered that Stassen has only a little Scandinavian blood, said with some resentment:

"We voted for him because we thought he was one of us—and how nice it would be to have a president who was Scandinavian!"

(Copyright 1948 by John F. Dille Co.)

It was known over two years ago that many of the most radical labor unions, including some of the biggest in Pennsylvania, favored Stassen second only to Henry Agard Wallace. It was in the industrial districts of Pennsylvania, the stronghold of these unions, where Stassen polled his greatest majorities last week, while Wallace got only a handful of votes. It must have been planned that way.

As of March 22, 1946, John Sobczak, manager of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America of Pittsburgh, Pa., wrote an inquirer:

"Our choice is: Democrat, Henry A. Wallace; Republican, Harold Stassen."

MacArthur the Dark Horse

Under date of March 25, 1946, Richard G. Davidson, acting director of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), Philadelphia, Pa., wrote the same inquirer:

"This is to inform you that the following are my favorite candidates: "Democrat, Henry A. Wallace; Republican, Harold E. Stassen.

"The Pennsylvania primary went far toward restoring MacArthur's early losses. His running ahead of Taft and far ahead of Vandenberg and Eisenhower, made it a virtual certainty that he would be the leading dark horse at the Republican convention.

Even a complete whitewash in the Ohio primary was not expected to hurt him, for his campaign strategists had steered clear of Taft's home state, in deference to the favorite-son tradition.

The importance of MacArthur's new position was not to be discounted. The more Stassen gained the surer the deadlock at the convention between Dewey, Taft, Stassen and a dozen favorite sons, thus making the choice of a dark horse almost inevitable.

Bronx Business Asks Probe of Education System

New York, May 5 (AP)—The Bronx Chamber of Commerce, saying a "child can do no wrong attitude" has been adopted in the city's public schools, has asked for an investigation of the "progressive" system of education.

The Chamber's directors, calling on Mayor William O'Dwyer for an inquiry yesterday, cited a Chamber committee report which said:

"Direct teaching of the basic prikneciples of the three R's is avoided except as a last resort.

"Discipline, as reflected in a respect for the teachers, the system or the school, has been entirely disregarded during a period when movies, radio, comics and stories lend glamor to the lawless."

Superintendent of Schools William Jansen, when asked for comment on the report, said the schools "have a very sane program" and he knows of no one in the system who ever said a "child can do no wrong."

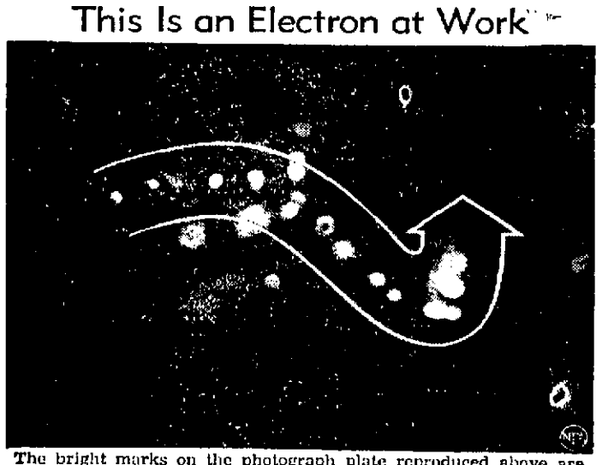
This Is an Electron at Work



The bright marks on the photograph plate reproduced above are the first definite tracks of an electron ever recorded. The electrons, which make up atoms, sped through a special photographic emulsion, striking grains of silver and thus making a traceable path. X-rays, shot through a lead filter, started the electrons flying. This picture, greatly enlarged, was made at the Eastman Kodak laboratories in Rochester, N. Y.

Blanchard Expects Conciliatory View From Red Leaders

Rochester, N. Y., May 5 (AP)—Russia probably will adopt a conciliatory attitude toward the United States in the face of our refusal to be bluffed, a newspaper official predicts.

L. R. Blanchard, general executive editor of the Gannett Newspapers, says there are definite indications Russia is abandoning what he termed her more warlike activities.

Blanchard told the spring meeting of the New York State Circulation Manager's Association last night that the Soviets know we will not be bluffed and that they could not win a prolonged war.

He said the Russians had been surprised by the sudden stiffening of U. S. policy in Berlin, the American preparedness program at home and defeat of the Communists in the Italian election.

The U. S. probably will continue to be annoyed by Russian insults and sneers, Blanchard added, but the incidents will be handled carefully to make certain they will not precipitate war.

The Rochester news executive, who returned recently from a tour of Europe with a group of newspaper officials, urged that the Germans be granted some freedom to develop their economy in order to combat Communism.

The depression of the 1930's brought a drastic decline in ministers' salaries.
